

AGENT APPEALS 162 DRAFT CASES

Names of All Men Who Have Been Exempted For Any Cause Sent to District Board.

ACCORDING TO INSTRUCTIONS

A. L. Gary Will Acquaint Himself With All Cases Preparatory to Going Before Board.

A. L. Gary, local appeal agent for the government, today gave formal notice of appeal to the district board in 162 cases. This was done according to instructions received last Saturday and also the original instructions, which were that all cases should be sent to the district board for final settlement.

The list of 162 names posted in the clerk's office include all of the men examined and passed by the local board, including those who were given exemption because of dependents. The only names not on the list are those who were discharged because of physical disability. It has always been understood that all cases were automatically appealed but the instructions under which Mr. Gary is working provide for his posting the list of appeal.

All of the men examined and passed by the local board are included in the list now posted. This list includes the names of men already in the military service and when Mr. Gary appears before the district board proper proof of this will be submitted and the men exempted by the district board. Under the new interpretation about the only authority the local board has is to examine the men and discharge those who are not physically fit.

Mr. Gary hopes to acquaint himself with the facts regarding each man's case and when called before the district board will submit such facts as he is able to gather. The list of 162 names does not, of course, include any of those who have been certified previously for service by the local board. Neither does it include the names of any men who have been refused exemption. Nine appeals were taken previously by the appeal agent and the total number of cases from this county for the district board to act upon appeal totals 171.

It is almost certain that the county's quota of 66 will be obtained from this number. Of course, there are a number of cases filed directly with the district board seeking exemption on occupational grounds that will also be acted upon, but if the district board is as lenient with this class as it was with the first case of this kind, the chances of securing the county's quota are not so great.

Mr. Gary is expecting to be called to Fort Wayne any day. The next set of men from this county to go to Louisville, representing 40 per cent of the quota, will leave on September 19, and it is imperative that the district board act on the cases before that time.

BREAKS AWAY FROM BUGGY

Runs Between Telephone Pole and Fence South of City.

A horse driven by Will Carter, colored, became unruly when the road near Albert Capp's home south of the city was blocked by a motor truck, Sunday, and backed into the ditch. The animal then ran up into the road and into the ditch on the other side between a telephone pole and a fence. The buggy caught on the pole and the fence and the horse broke loose, running on to the Capp farm. No one was hurt, but the buggy was damaged. Carter works for Albert Capp.

ORDERED TO HATTIESBURG

Lieut. Pearsey of Dental Reserve May Leave Tonight

Lieutenant Hale Pearsey was ordered Saturday night to report at once for duty at Camp Shelby, near Hattiesburg, Miss. Lieutenant Pearsey is in the United States dental reserve and has been expecting a call for some time. He was making preparations to leave tonight if possible. Lieutenant Pearsey was commissioned several weeks ago. He will be in the same camp with Company B, Fourth Indiana Infantry, of this city.

LITTLE GIRL FINDS AN HONEST SHOWMAN

One Here Saturday Night Captures Young Robber Who Stole Mary Wilson's Locket.

HE MADE THE BOY RETURN IT

It is proverbial that when a person is around followers of a circus, he is among thieves, but today Fred Wilson, 1022 North Perkins street, told the story of an honest man who was with the Buffalo Bill-Jess Willard show. He may not be there long, but he was Saturday night, when Mr. Wilson's two daughters, Mary, age fourteen, and a younger sister, visited the show grounds.

They were standing listening to a ballyho man when a young man snatched a locket from the neck of Mary Wilson and ran. It was a gift from the little girl's grandmother. It chanced that a stand man with the show saw the theft and he hastily assured the two girls, who were alone, that he would bring the thief to book and gave chase, telling the girls to remain where they were.

The stand man caught the young robber, searched him and found nothing but fifty cents in money. The stand man threatened to turn him over to the police and the youngster was frightened. He confessed selling the locket to another stand man on the ground. The protector of the two girls led him to the place where he sold the locket, gave back the fifty cents and returned the locket to the little girl.

THROWN FROM CAR AND NECK BROKEN

Fred Daum, Foreigner of Connersville, Meets With Fatal Accident Northeast of Raleigh.

RACING WITH ANOTHER CAR

Fred Daum, a foreigner, whose home was in Connersville, was killed Sunday on the Milton pike northeast of Raleigh while racing with another machine Daum, who was twenty-four years old, formerly served in the Austrian army.

Daum was riding in a light speedster and as he passed another car his machine hit a culvert at the side of the road and threw him out, breaking his neck and fracturing his skull.

Daum was riding alone. He had been racing with the people in another car and was in the act of passing them when the accident happened.

The automobile in which he was riding turned four complete somersaults.

GOES IN DITCH AT TURN

A Ripley county man's automobile went into the ditch on a sharp turn on the Shelbyville pike a few miles west of the city yesterday, but no one was hurt. A repair man from this city went to the scene of the accident and fixed the car, but the name of the driver was not learned.

MAY GET VALUABLE FOOD SUGGESTIONS

Each Woman Signing Membership Card Likely to Receive "Membership Outfit"

64 PAGE BOOK AND WALL CARD

Woman's Division of Defense Council Hopes to Distribute Them at Fair

A "membership outfit" will probably be given free to every woman who signs one of the national food administration membership cards at the county fair this week. The woman's division of the County Council of Defense hoped today to be able to make arrangements with the County Fair association for a booth of some sort at the fair.

Mrs. A. L. Stewart, who is at the head of the woman's branch of the county defense body, went to Indianapolis today and expected to get a supply of the "membership outfits" for distribution at the fair.

Each woman who signs one of the cards will be given a sixty-four page book entitled "Ten Lessons in Food Conservation," a kitchen "War Creed" wall card outlining the ideas of Mr. Hoover for household saving, and a three-colored window membership card.

It was the original plan of the food administration to mail these things from Washington to all signers of the food card, but it has been decided that the women will be much more anxious to sign the card if they are shown definitely a few of the helpful and educational things that the food administration is going to give them.

Women who sign the cards will be constantly receiving valuable suggestions from the food administration, not orders or commands, but pieces of instructive literature prepared by the government at great expense. "The Ten Lessons in Food Conservation" book is alone well worth the trouble of signing one of the cards.

Women who have already signed the cards will be mailed their "membership outfits," but new signers, from now on, will receive their outfits at the time they sign.

IS CAUSE TO MAKE WAR DECLARATION

Sweden's Action in Transmitting German Messages is Sufficient Grounds, London States

DENIED BY SWEDISH LEGATION

(By United Press.)

London, Sept. 10.—Sweden's action in transmitting German cipher messages through her foreign minister is sufficient cause for a declaration of war by England under international law, it was stated here today. The acts of her minister are binding upon the nation.

The disposition of England is not to enforce British rights to this degree, it was stated. The Swedish legation here today issued the following statement:

"It is quite unthinkable that the Swedish government had official knowledge of the alleged communications. It is equally improbable that the foreign minister was personally aware of the matter."

Washington, Sept. 10.—The United States government has no intentions now of breaking relations with Sweden because of the secret communications forwarded for Germany by the Buenos Aires Swedish minister. While Sweden's explanation may alter the American position, it was made officially clear today that the United States does not feel itself to be the injured party.

FAIRBANKS MAY SPEAK WEDNESDAY

Former Vice-president Probably Will Deliver Address at Fair Demonstration.

SOLDIER SOLOIST IS COMING

Red Cross Will Have Exhibit in the Floral Hall, But May Not Make Supplies There.

It was announced today that Charles W. Fairbanks of Indianapolis, former vice-president of the United States, would probably make the address at the patriotic demonstration for the men drawn for the army at the Rush county fair Wednesday, although it is not definitely settled. A basket dinner will be served for the men at noon.

The fair association has made arrangement with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gregg of Indianapolis to come here during the fair and sing "Good-bye My Soldier Boy." The song was written by Mr. Gregg, a member of the Forty-fifth United States regiment, and copies of the song will be sold at the fair, a large percentage of the proceeds going to the mess fund of the local military companies. It is planned to have the men who will go to the national army sell the song.

The executive committee of the Rush county chapter of the Red Cross met this morning and was informed that the Red-Cross could have space in the floral hall for an exhibit during the fair. Since it is not definitely determined how much room there will be, it can't be stated whether all the activities of the Red Cross will be moved to the fair grounds for the week.

It was the original plan to do all of the work in the floral hall this week, but if this is not possible on account of limited space, there will at least be a display of supplies which have been made by the Red Cross and one or two persons at the exhibit all the time to explain the work and solicit workers.

Concessions, show stuff and race horses began to arrive in large numbers today. There was not much stuff on the ground Sunday, but the largest crowd in years was there.

BOND ISSUE GOES TO PEOPLES BANK

Is Purchased by Local Financial Institution For $32.75 Premium—Individual Bids.

ISSUE TO BUILD MCCOY ROAD

A bond issue of $7,520 for the construction of the Joseph G. McCoy road in Posey township was sold this afternoon by the county treasurer to the Peoples National bank of this city for $32.75. For the first time in many years an individual submitted a bid for the bonds, Jesse Leisure offering the sum of $22.56 for the bonds. The bid of the Peoples National bank was the highest received.

Other bids follow: R. L. Dollings Company, $10; Breed, Elliott and Harrison, $3.80; Jesse A. Leisure, $22.56; Arlington National bank, $16; Rush County National bank, $26.32.

FAILS TO FORM MINISTRY.

Paris, Sept. 10.—Failure of Premier Ribot to form a new ministry was announced today. His resignation with the entire cabinet is believed to have been submitted. The minister of war, M. Rainleve, has been entrusted with forming a new ministry.

Mr. and Mrs. Noley Newhouse and daughter visited in Indianapolis yesterday.

TWO CARS COLLIDE HEADON

Neither is Badly Damaged in Accident Near Show Grounds

Two automobiles collided in West Third street Saturday night near the show grounds, but no great damage was done. The drivers of both machines claimed they did not see one another due to the congestion of traffic. The left front wheel and fender on the machine owned by Joseph A. Caffee was bent and broken and had to be taken to a local garage. The other car belonged to an Andersonville man, whose name was not learned, but he was able to drive it home.

BOOSTING OF NEW LOAN IS DISCUSSED

Bankers Committee Augmented by Addition of Other Members by County Defense Council

FOUR MINUTE MEN CAMPAIGN

Additional members were added Saturday to the committee which will boost the second Liberty Loan at the meeting of the County Council of Defense and ways and means of advertising the loan were discussed. The council conferred with the bankers committee appointed earlier last week, and it was augmented by more members.

It was decided at the meeting that the Four Minute Men campaign would be used to advertise the second Liberty Loan and that many of the ideas which worked well in the Red Cross campaign will be resorted to in the bond sale. The Four Minute Men Campaign will consist of speeches at motion picture theatres.

The full committee in charge of the campaign in this county will be as follows: Earl H. Payne, chairman; Wilbur Stiers, secretary; Lewis M. Sexton, treasurer; A. B. Irvin, Howard Henley, Fred Lightfoot, Thomas K. Muhl, Clarence Brown, John F. McKee, T. G. Richardson, J. F. Downey, E. B. Lowden, Bert B. Benner, E. B. Thomas, Joseph H. Pike, Ben Owen, Jesse A. Leisure, Frank McCorkle, M. W. Lyons, Charles Trowbridge, Nathan Price, Winona Newsom, Otis Miller and Dr. C. L. Smullen.

FORMALLY DECLARED IN A STATE OF WAR

Petrograd is Stage For Plot Organized by Commander of Army to Control Government

PROCLAMATION BY KERENSKY

By WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD (U. P. Staff Correspondent.) Petrograd, Sept. 10.—Petrograd was today formally declared in a state of war.

Premier Kerensky issued a proclamation revealing a plot by General Korniloff, commander-in-chief of the Russian army, to assume control of the government. Korniloff was immediately dismissed.

Kerensky's proclamation said: "Former premier Lvoff arrived in Petrograd Saturday demanding in General Korniloff's name that I deliver all civil and military authority to the general who would form a new government. This summons was afterwards confirmed by Korniloff personally. I have ordered General Korniloff to hand over his functions to the commander-in-chief of the army of the northern front which army now bars the enemy's way to Petrograd. I also declare a state of war in the district of Petrograd. I appeal to all citizens to remain calm and fulfill their duty to the fatherland against a foreign enemy."

BOYS BELIEVE IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

After Appeal Published in Republican, Sanitary Detachment is "Showered" With Chickens

VISITORS AT CAMP SUNDAY

See Review of Fourth Regiment Which is Participated in by Unit From This City

A number of local people were at Fort Harrison yesterday to see the members of the sanitary detachment of the Fourth Regiment and witness the parade of the Fourth Regiment. The local boys are all in good health and are enjoying the life.

The regiment passed in review before Col. E. A. Root and Col. Moorehead at four-thirty o'clock.

The local boys are comfortably located and mix pleasure with hard work in about equal proportions. The sanitary detachment is located at the south end of the last company street to the east of the camp.

The boys are firm believers in advertising. Last Tuesday a letter was published in the Daily Republican from Raymond Bennings stating that the detachment would welcome some fried chicken. On Thursday local people answered the call and enough fried chicken was taken to the camp for the entire detachment.

Jerry Sullivan continues to provide a lot of fun for the boys. Yesterday Bennings shined a pair of shoes preparatory for the review. He thought they were his shoes but they turned out to be Sullivan's. Now Jerry is calling Raymond his "orderly."

Private Walker is now acting as orderly to Major Carey. Major Carey has been giving several of the boys a chance at this job and no definite appointment has been made. George Hogsett is acting as orderly to Lt. Guhenaw.

There is considerable speculation as to when the detachment is to be sent to Hattiesburg. There are no definite orders, but it is generally believed that within the next three weeks the company will likely leave.

The review before the commanding officers yesterday afternoon was a pretty sight and was witnessed by several thousand people. The Fourth regiment band provided the music.

Among those from here who were at the fort yesterday were: Miss Nancy Hogsett, Mrs. Ernest Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Mulbarger, Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Spivey, Rex Readle, Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Simpson, Mrs. J. R. Carmichael, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hiner, Mrs. Marion Finney, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Eakins, Mr. and Mrs. John Blackledge, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frazee and daughter Miss Helen, Mrs. Will McBride, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Winship, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Young, Dr. and Mrs. Carl Beher, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mullin, Mrs. Bert Davidson and son Paul, Mrs. Lowell M. Green and guests Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Giltner of Pittsburg, Pa.

START ON TRIP TO FRANCE

Hazel Bennett and Ruth Dillion With Lilly Base Hospital

The Misses Ruth Dillion and Hazel Bennett of Indianapolis, formerly of this city were two of the sixty nurses leaving Indianapolis Sunday for New York where they will be equipped for overseas service and will eventually be attached to the Lilly Base Hospital when the unit goes to Europe. Those who left yesterday will be met in the east by other nurses belonging to the unit. The physicians and enlisted men in the unit are in training at Fort Harrison.

Which is Cheapest?

ITS mighty fine to see the interest so many farmers around here are taking in a better grade of engines. The Mogul kerosene engines we have sold up to date have all made such good records for steadiness and economy, and have proved themselves such good money makers for their owners, that we've been getting a lot of orders and inquiries lately.

Price may sell some things to farmers, but price alone is a poor argument when compared with the records for low cost of operation that Mogul kerosene engines are making in this neighborhood. If you are in the market for an engine, anywhere from 1 to 50-H. P. in size, and want some interesting facts about power at low cost, drop in and see us the next time you are in town.

Light as Chaff

Matrimonial Poser.

Billy was about to be married, and his friends—married friends—were giving him good advice, the burden of which was "Forget it!" But Billy was not to be dissuaded.

"Oh, I don't know," he replied. "Marriage is all right if you take it in the right way. Now, all this talk about matrimonial quarrels, arguments, and so on, is all nonsense. Surely you can accept one another's point of view. And, anyway, there's always an answer to every argument."

"Oh, is there?" growled the old married man. "I tell you, my boy, there's one argument in married life that you'll never be able to answer."

"Really? And what's that?"

"Why, when your wife says, 'If the Browns can afford it we can.' You try to find an answer to that!"

Age of the Beast.

A man who wanted to buy a horse asked how to tell the horse's age.

"By his teeth," was the reply.

The next day the man went to the horse dealer, who showed him a splendid black horse.

The horse hunter opened the animal's mouth and turned on his heel.

"I don't want him," said he. "He is thirty-two years old."

He had counted his teeth.

Mr. Creel has made a reputation as a writer, reformer, orator and fighter. He has worked hard for woman suffrage and for the abolition of child labor. He was associated with Judge Lindsey of Denver and served as police commissioner of the Colorado capital. His work in the investigation of the working conditions of the miners of Colorado attracted nation wide attention. Mr. Creel married Blanche Bates, the famous actress.

Caring for the Lawn During Hot Weather

Maintenance of an attractive blue grass lawn necessitates the devotion of considerable time to its care, points out M. F. Ahearn, professor of landscape gardening in the Kansas State Agricultural college.

The lawn should be cut every ten days to two weeks, and it is advisable to set the knives of the mower as high as possible to avoid injuring the young, succulent cells near the roots by permitting the sun's rays to burn out the roots. It may be necessary to weed the lawn once or twice provided it has been seeded in the spring.

During July and August the lawn will require closer attention than at any other time. Where shade is not abundant it will be necessary to irrigate and perhaps do some hand weeding. Maintaining vigorous growth of grass early in the season will help to carry it through this trying period. It would also be of great help if no cutting were done from the last of July to the middle of September. For the small lawn the price of a good stand of grass is constant attention and good care.

Mother's Doll Story

The Pet Duck

Once upon a time there was a little boy, Dicky, who had a pet duck. This ducky daddle was a doll stuffed with nice soft cotton. The flannel body was pale yellow, and his bill was black velvet. He was a lovely pet to play with because he never quacked too loudly and he never nipped Dicky's hands.

"Let's go and sail boats in the pool," Ducky," said Dicky one nice summer day.

"All right. Go put on your swimming trunks," said Ducky.

So off they danced to the corner of the yard where there was a cement pool that Dicky's papa used to wash the flower boxes in. Hot days he filled it with water, so Dicky could paddle and wade right in his own yard.

Splash went something right into the water. Ducks can't help dashing into water, you know. It's their nature. And when Ducky came up his black velvet bill had stained his yellow back so that Dicky had to have a new pet to take to bed with him that night.

A Past Custom.

You, no doubt, have heard the term "baker's dozen." You have never received more than the usual twelve loaves for your money, though in olden time you would surely have been given thirteen. In those days the law was very strict about shortages in weights and measures. The bakers were afraid that somehow they would not give full weight, so to be sure they got into the habit of giving thirteen loaves for the price of twelve. Thus it was that thirteen came to be called the baker's dozen.

Daisies.

Meadows of swaying whiteness, Can you guess what they may be? Endless billows of flowers, An ever moving sea.

What but meadows of daisies To the far horizon's trim: Many of them are near me, None in the distance dim.

DETECTIVES LOOK FOR SHOW EMPLOYEES

Half Dozen Here Saturday Searching For Men Who Nearly Killed Man Named Kelly

SHOW HAS GOOD PATRONAGE

A half dozen Pennsylvania railroad detectives were here Saturday on a "still" hunt for a gang of Buffalo Bill—Jess Willard show employees who inflicted probably fatal injuries on another show employee named Kelly at Marion Friday night. Detectives also anticipated a general fight similar to the one at Marion.

A search of the twenty-eight cars in the show train was made by detectives and police officials at Richmond the day before the show came here, but the men who were known to have beat Kelly had fled. Kelly is in a Marion hospital and little hope is held out for his recovery.

The show left here before midnight Saturday for Louisville where it showed today. The show enjoyed good patronage here, especially at the afternoon performance when many persons had to stand up. The program contained the usual things which are seen at a wild west show and had added circus features. Tumblers, clowns, elephants, trick horses, bareback riding, a trained monkey, a sparring bout between Jess Willard and his sparring partner were included in the hour and a half program.

James Mahin's Machine Badly Damaged West of Rushville.

An automobile owned and driven by James Mahin of Morristown was badly damaged Saturday when it upset at a culvert near the Bruce Johnson farm, west of the city. Mahin was accompanied by a man named Talbert of Morristown, but neither was badly hurt. Mahin failed to see the end of the culvert and when the front wheel struck it the machine turned over in the ditch.

A Good Friend

A good friend stands by you when in need. Rushville people tell how Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test. Mr. Priest endorsed Doan's over six years ago and again confirms the story. Could you ask for more convincing testimony?

Geo. Priest, 223 W. Third St., Rushville, says: "I have been afflicted more or less with kidney trouble for several years. It came on me gradually and each day, I could notice that it was becoming worse. It started with a dull pain directly over my kidneys, dizzy spells followed and there seemed to be specks before my eyes. Doan's Kidney Pills procured from Johnson's Drug Store freed me from that distressing pain in my back and restored my kidneys to a normal condition."

The above statement was given on March 9, 1910, and on Aug. 26, 1915, Mr. Priest said: Whenever my kidneys bother me I use Doan's Kidney Pills and they always give me good results."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Priest has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—(Adv.)

Control Over News

The Muncie Press, edited by George Lockwood, who is the most forceful, virile and clear-thinking editorial writer in Indiana, contributes a long chapter on the episode growing out of Senator James E. Watson's speech before the Virginia state convention last week.

He says that "the disreputable character of the control exercised over the columns of many of the metropolitan newspapers and the principal news distributing agencies of the country at this time, and the dishonest use being made by certain politicians of the war emergency, is illustrated anew in the handling of the speech made by Senator James E. Watson, of Indiana, at the recent Republican state convention in Virginia."

"A few weeks ago Senator Watson said to the editor of this paper that proper and honest discussion in the Senate was practically impossible because of the well-known fact that if even the most flagrant abuse, detrimental to the best military, naval or economic policy, were opposed in Congress, no honest account of the utterances would be sent out, but the story would be carried that the critic had 'made a savage attack on the President,' and other coloring matter would be added to make it appear that the Congressman speaking was a traitor to the United States and a tool of the kaiser. In other words, there is control of news channels which amounts to blackmail and it is employed as a means of terrorism certain in time to bring upon the country the results which always follow the complete stifling of honest criticism or opposition to any detail of an executive program. We all know where England was heading until a Northcliffe arose to attack and overthrow this vicious system of treating every dissenter in any matter of policy as a public enemy. We have the same situation in this country, but no journalist has appeared big enough to arise above the dead level of subservience and conventionality and strike at it for what it is—an enemy little less dangerous than the foreign foe we are confronting."

"The statement of Senator Watson is shown to be true by what the press associations carried about his speech at the Roanoke convention. It was a deliberate misrepresentation of the letter and spirit of his utterances. He was represented as opposing the war on the ground that it was unpopular. To serve the intended purpose he was put in the attitude of trying to arouse dissatisfaction with the war, when as a matter of fact his speech was the very strongest possible appeal to those inclined to be out of sympathy with the war to give to the nation their whole-hearted support. That such an appeal was very necessary in Virginia is well known. Yet the the dispatches carry a statement by Carter Glass, a Virginian administration Congressman, in which he repeats the falsehoods about the Watson speech, calls Senator Watson, by inference, a traitor, puts him in the same class with Emma Goldman and advocates clapping him in jail. It is indeed touching to note this tenderness as to treason coming from a politician who would scream like a Comanche if the sainted memory of Jefferson Davis were assailed; if he and his colleagues were criticized for using a session of the House to celebrate the birthday of a statesman who not only criticized an administration in time of war, but gathered armies and ammunition and spent four years fighting the American government and the American flag, for what he believed to be sufficient cause."

The Muncie Press has a copy of the old Dominion, published August 31, at Roanoke, Va., the place of the Virginia republican convention, immediately after the adjournment of the body. It contains a pretty full account of the speech of Senator Watson. That paper, edited by the secretary of the Virginia Republican organization, describes the utterance as "a great war speech," and continues: "It was considered, even by rank opposition partisans as being a great patriotic effort. It was a speech calculated to popularize the great struggle in the minds of many people who heretofore have been lukewarm or openly opposed to the prosecution of the war to the finish, and it is the duty of every patriotic American to do all in his power to bring it to a triumphant conclusion."

The Press says that the outline of the speech in the Old Dominion justifies this description of the utterance and then prints a brief resume of the speech.

"There can be little doubt but that many a person received a far better insight into why America is in the war than he ever had before, and will in the future be less liable to utter criticisms tended to still make the war unpopular in the minds of the general public," says the Old Dominion.

The Muncie Press then continues its comment as follows:

"This is the speech concerning which three Indianapolis daily papers are printing dispatches and communications intended to make the people believe that one of the Senators from their state has made an unpatriotic, even a treasonable utterance. It is a part of the vast fabric of falsehood which has been spread over this country by controlled agencies of publicity which are doing more harm to the cause of the country than the kaiser and all his soldiers, sailors, plotters and spies. In fact, the German government could well afford to be the agency whereby such activities as this are subsidized. The chief traitors and the most useful tool of the enemy is the men or newspaper which unjustly impugn the loyalty of any patriotic citizen."

"As for the statement of Congressman Carter Glass, the Virginia politician who seeks to make partisan use of this vicious perversion of facts, and who, after having had, according to his own statement, a denial from the secretary of the Virginia state Republican committee that Mr. Watson was correctly quoted, suggests that the Indiana Senator should be taken in charge and prosecuted for the treasonable speech he made at Roanoke, it is easy to understand why Glass is guilty of such indecent conduct against a Congressional colleague. The party of opposition has set out to make Virginia safe for democracy. Attack is being made upon a system whereby, out of an electorate a half million votes, only 140,000 are permitted to vote; a system under which by force, fraud and legal trickery, a common wealth which lies in sight of the White House, has been denied the form of government it is proposed to erect in Germany upon the ruins of the existing dynasty. In other words, it is proposed to bring to an end in Virginia, practices in the light of which phrases about democracy which fall trippingly from the tongue of politicians of the Old Dominion prominent in political life, become but the hypocritical yap of desperate demagogues."

"As to the effect of Senator Watson's speech, which a Washington dispatch to an Indianapolis paper says will be made the issue of the Virginia campaign, the result of the election in November, in so far as an election is permitted under the system prevailing there, to be indicative of public opinion, will furnish final evidence. Even the practice of turning voters of the opposition party away from the polls because they can not give the name of the smallest republic in the world, or solve a problem in differ-

Current Comment

The Superfluous Middleman (Newspaperdom)

The misnamed Committee on Public Information at Washington has bowed to newspaper opinion in one respect, but it persists in the role self-constituted censor, although denied by Congress any right to the name or the function of such an office. Chairman George Creel recently authorized the announcement that his institution would discontinue the issuance of ready-made news and feature stories and would substitute bare, unvarnished statements of fact. The reason for this change was found, presumably, in the fact that the newspaper press refused, for the most part, to use the predigested stuff from the Creel agency unless it was rewritten in the office of publication.

Since Creel has been refused by Congress any credentials as a censor, and inasmuch as all the government departments have in the past done very well unaided, thank you, in gaining publicity for their official announcements, it was difficult for the unsophisticated newspaper man to fathom what there would be left for Creel and his crowd to do if word painting were to be cut out. However, Newspaperdom was not long left in mystification. Mr. Creel announces that his men will cover, to the exclusion of others, the executive departments and others news sources—will forsooth, be received there as trusted government employees, not as mere newspaper reporters—and will in due course pass on to the waiting press such information as is deemed wise.

The delays in transmission, the increased liability to error, and a dozen other good and sufficient reasons, condemn the injection between the government and newspapers of this superfluous middleman, but worse of all is the denial to the working newspaper men of the personal touch in federal news gathering. Under the Creel autocracy it is impracticable for a writer, save by special arrangement, with no end of red tape, to obtain opportunity to gain information at first-hand from the various experts in the government service—men whose views and news are of the utmost interest at this time. It is nothing short of censorship, and censorship of the most obnoxious and irritating kind, and it restricts the public in news it receives to the purely superficial. The specialist is newsgathering who has his subject at his finger tips, who can propound intelligent questions in interviewing, and who knows what is new and what is old on a subject, finds all the hard-won qualifications of experience set at naught through the necessity of establishing indirect contact with his news source via an intermediary who doubtless means well.

ential calculus or recite the first twenty lines of the Anabasis, while voters of the party in power who can not read or write are permitted to cast their ballots without interference, will hardly save a political oligarchy which has put the mock in democracy at home while supposedly fighting for it abroad, from destroyed defeat, especially when it employs such disreputable political methods as are exemplified in this case of Senator Watson's convention address."

Expires From Complication of Diseases Following Illness of Several Weeks

FOUR CHILDREN AND WIDOW

Montgomery S. Rankin, 60 years old, died Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock at his home in West Seventh street, following an illness of several weeks from a complication of diseases. He had been in a critical condition for several days and his death was expected. He is survived by the widow and four children, Naomi, Otis, Raleigh and Russell Rankin.

The funeral services were conducted this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the late residence by the Rev. W. M. Whitsitt and burial took place in East Hill cemetery.

TRAIL BOOSTERS MEETING

Seek Highway From Cincinnati to Kalamazoo, Mich.

(By United Press.)

Fort Wayne, Sept. 10.—"Trail boosters" of Ohio, Indiana and Michigan are in session today in Fort Wayne laying plans for construction of an automobile highway stretching from Cincinnati to Kalamazoo, via Richmond and Fort Wayne. M. B. Luecke, vice president of the Hoosier State Automobile association and chairman of the committee to arrange details of the state's system of auto trails, called the conference here.

The trail boosters plan to ask aid of the state highway committee in construction and repair work along the highway.

Indiana members of the committee directing the campaign for the trail are Charles J. Beiderwolf, chairman, J. V. Taylor of Winchester, C. J. Munton, of Kendallville, and George Cohler of LaGrange.

The Inward Life.

The signs and fruits of inward life are the outcome of long, slow working causes, running back through all our years, including all that we dreaded and bewailed as well as all that we welcomed and enjoyed, including also the outward and inward life of our struggling ancestors and the long and broad evolution of humanity. We must follow the hint. We must make each step an onward one. We must not interrupt our own progress.—Charles C. Ames.

Cheating on the Job

One of the features of this materialistic age and the natural expression of it is where men accept jobs and then neglect to attend to them honestly. There is general complaint upon this score. The usual form of the dishonesty comes in putting more time on a job than is necessary.

This is a form of rank dishonesty. It comes in the shape of devoting three hours to a job that ought not to take more than two. It is strange how easily men's hearts become hardened to all these apparently innocent frauds. They seem not to care how much a job costs a man, provided they are not the man. The indifference to the other fellow's welfare is one of the great sins of the age, of which reputed good men are about as guilty as the reputed bad.

One of the highest duties of a man's life is to see that he doesn't cheat somebody, but this duty is almost universally neglected. Our Christianity needs a vigorous brushing up.—Ohio State Journal.

Knowledge.

It is the glorious prerogative of the empire of knowledge that what it gains it never loses. On the contrary, it increases by the multitude of its own power. All its ends become means; all its attainments help to new conquests.—Daniel Webster.

SAID OF WOMEN.

Women of forty always fancy they have found the fountain of youth and that they remain young in the midst of the ruins of their day.—Arsene Houssaye.

The perfect loveliness of a woman's countenance can only consist in that majestic peace which is founded in the memory of happy and useful years, full of sweet records.—John Ruskin.

The Vacant Sneeze.

A sergeant and a private were out sniping. The private was troubled with a cold and was continually sneezing, which rather annoyed and put the sergeant's shots off their mark.

"Confound you, Coldhead!" yelled the sergeant at last. "You made me miss again!"

"Why, I didn't do nothing, sergeant," exclaimed the private, amazed.

"Yes, yes, you did. It was your

"I didn't sneeze," again protested the private.

"Of course you didn't!" roared the sergeant. "It's the first bloomin' time you've missed, and I allowed for it, you chump!"

No Friend.

FROST FORECAST TONIGHT

Covering up Garden Vegetables and Flowers Is in Order

The business of covering up garden vegetables and flowers will occupy the people of Rushville tonight with the news being sent out by the weather bureau today that frost is probable tonight in the north and central part of the state and may expect a touch of Jack nip from Jack Frost if the weather bureau's prediction comes true. If there is any frost, however, it is expected to be very light because it is extremely early for frost here.

Orleans, Sept. 10.—While swimming in White River, a young farmer near here, found a large tooth supposed to be from the jaw of an extinct mastodon. It measures three and one-eighth inches in diameter, four and one-half inches across the front, is six inches long and weighs two and three-quarter pounds.

COUNTY LEVY INCREASED

(By United Press.)

Bluffton, Sept. 10.—The county tax levy for 1918 has been increased 12 cents on each $100 of taxable property. Appropriations to conduct the county business for the next year totaled about $129,000.

A wedding of much interest to many friends in this city, was that of Miss Myra Seidenstricker and Henry Chalfant Holton, both of Indianapolis last Saturday afternoon at four o'clock. The beautiful wedding was solemnized at the home of the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. George Seidenstricker. The ceremony room was banked with palms flanked with huge bouquets of hydrangeas and pink asters. Tall cathedral candles gave the light. The bride was lovely in a frock of white georgette crepe fashioned over satin with silver ornaments. She carried a large bouquet of lilies of the valley. A picturesque black velvet hat added to the attractive appearance of the bride. The bride's sister, Miss Stella, was maid of honor and the Misses Wanita Driscoll and Frances Hunt were chosen as bridesmaids. Raymond Brandes acted as best man. The attractive attendants of the bride were beautifully gowned in pink frocks with large black velvet hats and carried pink roses.

After the ceremony an elaborate supper was given, and Mr. and Mrs. Holton left immediately for an extended trip. Mr. Holton is well known in this city, having visited here many times.

On last Saturday, Sept. 8, at eight o'clock, a beautiful but quiet wedding was solemnized at the Methodist parsonage at Albion, Mich., when Miss Ella May Meek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Meek of Albion, Mich., and Donald J. Sampson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lot Sampson of Falmouth, Ind., were united in marriage by the Rev. A. R. Johns. The ring ceremony was used. The bride was gowned in a beautiful dress of white georgette crepe and carried a shower bouquet of brides roses and ferns. The bridesmaid, Miss Anna Frank of Waukegan, Wis., was becomingly gowned in white and carried an immense bouquet of pink asters. Rynald Frank of Marshall, Mich., acted as best man.

After a short stay in Michigan and a visit to points in northern Indiana, Mr. and Mrs. Sampson will return to Rush county, where they will make their home.

Announcement has been received here of the engagement of Miss Bessie Behrends, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Behrends of Chicago and Arthur Kenner, also of Chicago, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Kenner of Noble township. The wedding will take place at the bride's home next Saturday evening and they will be at home in Chicago after October 1 following a short wedding trip. Mr. Kenner has been employed in Chicago for four years as an electrical engineer by the Western Electric company.

Miss Pauline Gosnell was the charming hostess, last evening when she entertained with a luncheon at her home in West Second street, honoring her house guest, Miss Martha Ellen Hupp of Shelbyville. Masses of pink and white asters embellished the center of the prettily laid table and covers were laid for the Misses Martha Ellen Hupp and Ray Byrd of Shelbyville and Robert May of Indianapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hyatt entertained with a well appointed dinner Sunday at their country home southeast of Milroy, when their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Norval Hudson, sons Robert and Lowell and daughter Thelma of Gings, Mrs. Flora Jackson, Burney Jackson, Chester Richey of Milroy and the Misses Myrtle and Nora Jackson of this city.

Thirty-four members of the You, I Go club and two guests, Mr. and Mrs. Elsa Hillgoss were entertained by Mrs. Sarah Logan yesterday at her country home, southeast of this city. At noon a sumptuous pitch-in dinner was served and in the afternoon a social time was enjoyed by the guests.

The bonds of the marriage of Miss Nettie Moran and Paul La-grange were announced at the sired,

The ninth annual reunion of the Hillgoss family was held yesterday at the city park, the day being such an ideal one accounting for the large attendance. At noon an elegant dinner was served. The table was centered by a large cake baked by Mrs. Lon Hillgoss of Greenfield. Out-of-town guests were in attendance from Indianapolis, Greenfield, Anderson, Chicago Heights, Ill., Shelbyville, Vincennes and Connersville. During the afternoon several interesting talks were given, including one by George Hall. In his address he told of the life of Michael Hillgoss, the first treasurer of the United States, whose picture appears on all ten dollar gold certificates. Officers for the coming year were elected with Webster Hillgoss of Sharpesville, president; John Logan, vice-president; Mrs. Dora Hillgoss, secretary-treasurer. The next meeting will be held at Mounds Park, at Anderson, the second Sunday in September, 1918.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Clifton of Gings, Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth Kiser, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Porter and son and William Kiser of Sexton, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kiser and daughter of Dunreith motored to Newcastle Sunday and were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Boyd.

Directions For Canning Fruits Without Sugar

The use of sugar, of course, is desirable in the canning of all kinds of fruits and makes a better and ready sweetened product. Moreover, most of the fruits when canned in water alone do not retain their natural flavor, texture and color as well as fruit put up in sirup. Fruit canned without sugar to be used for sauces or desserts must be sweetened.

Can the product the same day it is picked. Cull, stem or seed and clean the fruit by placing it in a strainer and pouring water over it until it is clean. Pack the product thoroughly in glass jars or tin cans until they are full. Use the handle of a tablespoon, wooden ladle or table knife for packing purposes. Pour over the fruit boiling water from a kettle, place rubbers and caps in position, partially seal if using glass jars; seal completely if using tin cans. Place the containers in a sterilizing vat, such as a wash boiler with false bottom or other receptacle improvised for the purpose. If using a hot water bath outfit, process for thirty minutes. Count time after the water has reached the boiling point. The water must cover the highest jar in container. After sterilizing remove packs, seal glass jars, wrap in paper to prevent bleaching and store in a dry, cool place.

If you are canning in tin cans it will improve the product to plunge the cans quickly into cold water immediately after sterilization. When using a steam pressure canner instead of the hot water bath sterilize for ten minutes with five pounds of steam pressure. Never allow the pressure to go over ten pounds.

A Cooking Hint.

The quality and flavor of meat or fish can be injured by overcooking or improper cooking. If fats are allowed to burn even a little they develop unpleasant flavors. If this happens in making gravies and sauces or in frying foods the food will usually not be eaten. Burned meat is also disagreeable, and so are burned vegetables.

Reduce Food Bills.

The same standard "Eat enough food and no more" rigidly followed would reduce greatly food bills in many homes and at the same time tend to improve the physical condition of all members of the household.

IDLE WOMEN.

There are too many idle women in the world. This is not because of a lack of work, but a characteristic of certain females to think they have no responsibility in life. All life must be responsible or it is worthless. Vigorous work would cure scores of so called feminine ailments and make the world of women more helpful than it is.—Marie Corelli.

Inspiration Miscellany

Habits Are Forces

Even without considering at all the common bad habits, just think of the thousand and one little habits that largely determine one's every thought and act. In the commonest things every one is influenced by innumerable little habits that he seldom suspects. Hardly an impression, emotion, opinion, resolution or action is possible to us that is not influenced, directed and colored by fixed conditions within ourselves—habits.

Almost every move in the process of the morning's dressing, for example, is involuntary and calls for no conscious thought. Your mind is absorbed in mapping out the day's work while habit is washing and dressing you.

Habit accustoms us to doing most of the everyday things in particular ways, and we consciously turn the mind to them only when they chance to be done differently. The dividing line between efficiency and inefficiency is largely right here. Any one who stops to think about it can easily see that innumerable little habits make up a very large part of our lives. It is, indeed, well worth while carefully to study the host of little habits that breed and hide in the most secret cells of brain and muscle. None of them is too small to be worth attention.

Bad habits are the little threads with which the weak Lilliputians bound the strong Gulliver in helplessness.

Good habits are like a well made harness, enabling us to do our work in the world with less friction and waste of energy.

Habits we cannot avoid. Nor can we escape being greatly controlled by them. But we have free choice between the habits that are good and helpful and habits that are bad and harmful.—Christian Herald.

Man's Free Will.

Man's free will is but a bird in a cage. He can stop at the lower perch or he can mount to a higher. Then that which is and knows will enlarge his cage, give him a higher and a higher perch and at last break off the top of his cage and let him out to be one with the free will of the universe.—Lord Tennyson.

Girls Who Work

Here is the gist of a discussion at a business conference:

"There's nothing easier than to get out of date in your job. Because you've made a good record don't think you can lie back on it and let it float you the rest of your life. You'll find yourself in backwater in no time.

"You've got to keep growing. One way is to keep interested in what's being done all around you, especially in your own business. Another way is to get some friend you can trust to point out to you where you are slack. Another way is to bring a few tests to bear on yourself at least once or twice a year—not salary tests (these may be deceptive), but work and idea tests."

We women need to do a lot of growing, whatever our work may be.

BRIGHTNESS OF LIFE.

A mere word of cheer in the shadow of night
When discouragement darkens the way
Will illumine our hearts with the glorious light
Of a hopeful and sun brightened day.

When failure confronts us and darkens our goals,
How we long for the clasp of a hand!
It is then that we cry from the depths of our souls
For a friend who can just understand.

A bright, cheery smile often gives us the strength
That we lack in the vortex of strife.
For it lightens our load as we travel the length
Of the care laden path we call life.

So we find, after all, that the things we thought small
Loom colossal above all the host;
That the best of God's gifts are the friends we can call
To our side when we need them most.

—Houston Post.

A NEW DIFFERENCE IN TRACTORS

We were all standing around the elevator platform awaiting our turn to unload our wheat when the conversation drifted to tractors. Joe Smith was just back from one of the big plowing demonstrations and we were anxious to hear about what he had seen.

"There was about the usual number of tractors there this year," he said. "Several new machines just put on the market, and some of them looked mighty good, too. Plowing and other tests were carried on pretty much as usual, but there is a new element in tractor competition this year that hasn't been brought out very forcibly before. It is the kind of fuel a tractor operates on. Gasoline has always been considered a fairly cheap tractor fuel until this year, but now it costs more than twice as much as kerosene. People have not generally realized it before—I know I didn't until I was told about it at the demonstration—but there has been an average difference of about 100 per cent in the price of these two fuels for the past six years. It started me to thinking, and so I sat down at the hotel one evening and figured out what that difference would mean to a man using a tractor of say 10-H. P. on the drawbar and 20 on the belt. I figured that a good average tractor ought to operate on about one pint of gasoline per horse power per hour. That means that a tractor of this size ought to burn about 25 gallons of gasoline in a ten-hour day. Suppose that it cost 19 cents a gallon," he said, taking out his pencil and starting to figure on the side of the building, "that is a fair average price the country over. That makes a day's fuel cost $4.75. Engineers willingly admit that it takes a little more kerosene than gasoline to produce the same power in a kerosene-burning tractor, but kerosene weighs more per gallon than gasoline and contains more heat units, and this means more power per pound, so while it takes more pounds of kerosene than of gasoline to give the same horse power, they give practically the same power, gallon per gallon. Think then what the difference in cost of fuel would amount to. Twenty-five gallons of gasoline we figured would cost about $4.75, but the same quantity of kerosene at 8.4 cents per gallon, which is the average price in the United States, would cost $2.10, a difference of $2.65 for fuel alone every working day. Suppose you use your tractor only three hours a day, or one thousand hours a year. That means a saving of $265 a year on fuel, or in the course of five years, which we will say, just for argument's sake, is the life of the tractor, $1,325—enough to pay for a first-class kerosene tractor and money to spare."

Pretty convincing argument, wasn't it? Well, we all asked a lot of questions about different tractors we had read about, and Joe said:

"There is always one thing you notice at the demonstrations. The old companies that have been in business for a long time do not change the design of their machines very much. They are often improved in small details, but they do not make any radical changes from year to year. On the other hand, there are always a half dozen new queer looking machines, but in the years I have attended demonstrations, I have noticed that the majority of these will not show up the second year. This proves to me that the old timers have the goods to stick to, in spite of all the claims of the new fellows that they have solved the farmer's problems for him in their new machine. I always try to look a tractor over from a common sense standpoint. For instance, I believe a tractor ought to stand on four wheels and have the power applied to the two rear wheels. You would not think much of a three-wheeled motor truck, or one that applied its power to the front wheels and steered from the rear. Besides, when there is only one driving wheel on a tractor, either in front or behind, it has to be so much heavier than either one of the two drivers on a four-wheeled machine, that it packs the soil. There are several other good features I would recommend to any man buying a tractor now. A foot-power brake, for instance, can be applied without removing your hand from the steering wheel. Dust guards over the drivers and chains are a great help on windy days, for they keep the dust out of the driver's eyes and they save a lot of wear on the chains. I notice, too, that most tractors are getting away from the use of batteries for ignition. There are magnets made nowadays which are arranged so that they furnish just as hot a spark for starting as they do for running, and batteries can be eliminated entirely. The engine and all important working parts ought to be enclosed, so that the dirt cannot get into them, and the principal parts ought to be oiled by an automatic oiler. I am not much of a mechanic, but these things look to me to be good common sense, and they are the things that I am going to insist upon having when I buy a tractor."

ADVANCED TO COACH ON THE RIFLE RANGE

Ross M. Hutchinson's Good Marksmanship is Recognized at the Marine Corps Training Station

BEST SHOTS IN THE WORLD

Ross Hutchinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hutchinson of Arlington, since having won the title of expert rifleman by his good score with the rifle, has been detailed to act as coach or instructor on the firing line at Paris Island, South Carolina, where a training station for the United States Marines is situated. There was a vacancy on the rifle range and on account of his good record with the rifle, he was promptly promoted. It is an extremely important post because upon the instructor depends the shooting ability, in a large measure, of the recruits as they pass through their rifle course.

Not only the winning of the rank as expert rifleman, but the promotion to instructor is a distinct honor for the Arlington boy. About 75 per cent of the men on the range where he is located qualify as marksmen, the lowest rank, or better. It is the highest record of any range in the Marine Corps and the Marines are the best shots, as a whole in the world.

TWO BICYCLES RECOVERED

Negroes With Show in Act of Placing Them on The Train

Bicycles belonging to Virgil Hileman and Arch Stout were recovered by the police Saturday night from two negroes with the Jess Willard show. The bicycles were taken from the rear of a house in Buena Vista avenue and were about to be placed on the show train as it was leaving the city when the police recovered them. The colored men were not arrested.

Amusements

A novel feature with the Sells-Floto circus, which will be in Shelbyville, Thursday Sept. 13th is a group of artists' models who pose the most celebrated paintings and statuary. These young women were selected from art schools throughout the country. Being familiar with the famous paintings of the world the models pose while the platforms on which they stand slowly revolve.

There are five groups of models. So expert are they that the trainers with the circus imposed upon the original offering by adding animals to the pictures. Horses, dogs and ponies are in the poses.

The models are clad in white and their features are whitened so that the pictures look as if carved out of stone. With great care immaculate horses and dogs have been selected to play the respective parts in the different pictures. Lovers of art will especially appreciate this feature of the circus.

Timely Summer Hints For the Home Gardener

Now that radishes, lettuce and in some sections peas, spinach and other crops are being harvested, home gardeners should be making their preparations to utilize the freed space by planting other crops, say specialists of the United States department of agriculture.

In planning for these plantings the specialists suggest it is well at all times, but especially this year, to concentrate efforts on the production of vegetables that have considerable food value and on those which may be stored in their natural condition, dried or canned, for winter use. Late Irish potatoes are one of the important crops that can be grown on the freed ground. Navy beans furnish substantial food, which is easily stored, and the present market prices make it worth while in sections where they thrive to replant with this legume the space from which crops have been harvested.

Other vegetables of much food value from which choice may be made for late plantings include sweet corn, late beets, string beans, turnips, tomatoes, squash and pumpkins.

Among the less nutritious vegetables which may be planted in soil freed by early harvests are late cabbage and cucumbers. Winter onions, fall lettuce and fall radishes also may be planted late in the season.

You can't make good cream with a dirty cream separator

CREAMERYMEN AND BUYERS all over the country are demanding better cream, and if you sell cream it is to your advantage to deliver the best possible cream.

IF YOU MAKE BUTTER IT is equally important that your cream be first-class. Good butter can't be made from poor cream.

THE ONE FACTOR THAT most largely determines the quality of cream is the sanitary condition of the cream separator bowl in which it is separated.

THE EASE WITH WHICH the De Laval can be thoroughly washed and kept in a sanitary condition is one reason why creamerymen prefer cream separated by the De Laval and it is likewise one of the reasons why butter made from De Laval cream has scored highest at the National Dairy Show for over twenty years.

THE CONSTRUCTION OF the De Laval is such that it can be completely taken apart for washing. There are no tubes, crevices, holes or corrugated surfaces such as are found in other machines, and which are very hard to clean.

THE DISCS ARE WASHED AS a single piece, and the whole machine can be thoroughly cleansed in five minutes.

ATTENDANCE AT SCHOOL IS URGED

The Rev. D. Ira Lambert Shows That it is Doubly Important Because of War

SERMON ON SUNDAY MORNING

Points to Assertions of School Authorities Regarding Need of Educated Men

Apurpose of the opening of the city schools next week, the Rev. D. Ira Lambert preached regarding the urgent necessity of school attendance being held to the standard regardless of the war, at the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning, taking for his text, Second Peter, 1:15. "Add to your faith knowledge."

"For three years," he said, "the colleges and universities of Europe have been closed and the public school system seriously crippled and in some places obliterated, and sad indeed will be the outlook for our own land if such a condition prevail here. Two hundred thousand boys and girls graduated from the high schools of America last June. Under normal conditions about one hundred thousand of these would enter the higher schools of learning this fall and great will be the loss to them if they be deprived of this great boon in the most critical period of their lives."

"And yet word comes from many quarters of the land that certain prominent institutions of learning will scarcely be able to open and the schools will be crippled in many phases of their work. Not only will this be an amazing loss to the future of this generation but it is a problem of vital importance in the issues of the great world conflict in which we are engaged."

"As a letter issued by the presidents of Indiana colleges and normal schools puts it, 'this a scientific war and before its end we shall find as other countries have found that we must continue unremittently our research, study and preparation to win it. Experts skilled in physics, chemistry, mathematics, astronomy, engineering, agriculture, pharmacy—indeed in all the branches of science—will be able to contribute to the nation far more than their man power. The demand for able physicians and surgeons will grow unceasingly as the war progresses.'

"Commissioner Claxton reminds us that if the war should continue long the country will need very greatly for war purposes alone many more men than it now has. He says: 'There will be men in abundance to fight in the trenches but there will be a dearth of officers, engineers and men of scientific knowledge and skill in all the industries in transportation and in many other places where skill and daring are just as necessary as in the trenches.' Not only does the number of trained leaders need to be increased for the sake of the future of our own nation but also for the

"Through the schools also we in the United States are putting into the national life those ideals and purposes which will certainly shape the course and destiny of the nation and determine its contribution to the world's development and welfare. What are we putting into the nation through the schools and colleges? No question can be of more far reaching importance. Historically, the dominant ideals of American education has been not to increase the powers of the state but the training of citizens to serve mankind. Our oldest colleges emphasize this ideal. Harvard was built 'for Christ and the church.' Yale was established for a specific purpose—to 'train men for service in the church and the state.'

"As President Wilson has well said: 'The day has come when America is privileged to spend her blood and might for the principles that gave her birth and happiness and peace that she has treasured.' Democracy is a beautiful ideal but the ideal will never be realized until the world has a democracy which is rooted and grounded in the principles of righteousness and love which Jesus made the basis of the coming kingdom of Heaven, and those ideals not only for the present but for the period following the war, must be maintained in the ideals of our schools. To take political power out of the hands of kings and put it in the hands of the people is to establish a democracy; but it will not be a democracy safe for the world unless we first put into the people the spirit of fraternity and service and teach them how to build a truly christian democracy. For the accomplishment of this end the most potent agency is the christian school and college and therefore he who labors to maintain these manifests the highest patriotism and ministers most effectively to the deepest need of the whole seething mass of humanity as it struggles toward the light. It is with the moulders of ideals that the faith of the future rests, that which moulds the true character which trains the mind and develops the body and moulds the spirit of youth into accord with the ideal of Him who is the Master of men because he is the servant of mankind."

The Beautiful.

We ought to acquaint ourselves with the beautiful; we ought to contemplate it with rapture and attempt to raise ourselves up to its height, and in order to gain strength for that we must keep ourselves thoroughly unselfish. We must not make it our own, but rather seek to communicate it—indeed, to make a sacrifice of it to those who are dear and precious to us.—Goethe.

Joys of Life.

Along all our pathways sweet flowers are blossoming if we will only stop to pluck them and smell their fragrance. In every meadow birds are warbling, calling to their mates and soaring into the blue, if we will only stop our grumbling long enough to hear them.

Home Cookery

Veal and Ham Pie.

To make a moderate sized pie take half pound of neck of veal, a quarter of a pound of ham, two hard boiled eggs, a little parsley, mixed herbs and pastry. Remove the meat from the bones and put in a saucepan to stew, then add the meat to cook partly while the crust is made and the eggs are boiled. Take out the meat and fill the pie dish with alternate layers of veal, ham and egg cut into thick slices and sprinkled over with the herbs and seasoning. Then strain the gravy into the dish until it is about half full. Wet the edges, line with a strip of thin pastry, then cover. Make holes in the top, then decorate the pie and bake in a moderate oven for one hour.

Creamed Codfish in Bread Cases.

Cut rather thick slices of bread, remove the crusts and with a cookie cutter stamp out the center of each, leaving a case similar in shape to a patty shell. Fry in deep, hot fat to a golden brown; drain on brown paper and fill with the following: Let a piece of salt codfish stand in cold water for several hours or overnight. Heat it gradually in the water, and when the fish begins to shrink drain and mix with a scant cup of cream sauce to which a chopped hard boiled egg has been added. Stir until the fish is heated, season lightly with paprika and sprinkle in a little chopped parsley. Use no salt.

Apple Sauce Cake.

Cream one cupful of sugar and one-half cupful of shortening. Dissolve one teaspoonful of soda in a little hot water and stir this in one cupful of sour apple sauce, letting it foam over into the mixing bowl. Add nearly or quite two cupfuls of flour sifted with one teaspoonful of cinnamon, one-half teaspoonful of cloves and a little nutmeg. Mix thoroughly, then add one cupful of raisins. Bake in a loaf tin about forty-five minutes.

Prune Tartlets.

Line small tins with pastry; in each put a tablespoonful of prune pulp, prepared by rubbing cooked prunes with their juice through a sieve and adding two tablespoonfuls of fine breadcrumbs to each cupful of fruit; cover with mixture of two tablespoonfuls of butter and sugar beaten to a cream with two eggs, two-thirds cupful of breadcrumbs, ten drops of almond extract and a teaspoonful of baking powder.

Summer Management Of the Poultry Flock

Mash hoppers that allow grain to be scratched out and wasted are a cause of more loss than is commonly supposed. Under average conditions as much as 10 to 15 per cent may be wasted without its becoming very noticeable. During the spring, summer and fall hens on range will pick up enough to decrease very materially the amount of grain they will require.

Free range does not mean a yard where hens have run for years or an hour or two for liberty just before evening. Real range means free access to fresh green fields or pasture from daylight until dark. If henhouses must be closed at night for protection open them in the morning as soon as the hens come down from roost. Hens get more out of the first two hours of daylight than all of the afternoon. If it is possible to move poultry houses away from other buildings or the home garden to a place where the hens can have absolute free range on fresh sod this is the year to do it. This is equally if not more important for young stock than for the mature birds.

Sour Cherry Preserve.

Pit the cherries, weigh and put in preserving kettle with an equal weight of sugar. Stand on the back of stove until the sugar is dissolved, then boil slowly until thick. If this is too rich a very nice preserve is made by using seven pounds of sugar to ten pounds of fruit.

MUST PROVE FAITH IN GERMAN PEOPLE

Socialist Leader Says This is Necessary For President to Bring Immediate Peace

WAR AGAINST DEVELOPMENT

Agrees Durable Peace Must be Guaranteed by the People and Not the Government

By JOHN GRANDEN

(Copyright 1917 by U. P.)

Perlin, via London, Sept. 10.—President Wilson can bring immediate peace if he will prove by acts the faith in the German people he has expressed in words, Philip Scheidemann, leader of the German socialist majority party, declared today in an exclusive interview with the United Press.

Scheidemann granted the interview after an exhaustive study of President Wilson's reply to Pope Benedict.

"Further bloodshed is not necessary if America believes in and does not underestimate the reichstag's power and the strength of the German government which pushes so irresistibly towards democratization of the entire public life," Scheidemann declared.

"Democratization of Germany is pushing on, although as in America war offers the worst chance for further development of democratic institutions."

"The German advance will be quick the sooner the obstacles of war are removed."

"The irritative tone of the American note to the pope has been responded to in the same way by the greater part of the German press."

"I find the American government phrases its war aims in such a weak manner that it looks as if the reichstag's peace formula had served as a base."

"The reichstag's demand, with its program of peace under standing and durable conciliation of peoples; declared forceful extension of territory as well as political, commercial and financial oppression incompatible with such a peace and declared a willingness to promote the establishment of international guarantee."

"The idea that peace in order to be durable is not only to be guaranteed by the government but by the people is absolutely right notwithstanding the fact that the suggestion is made in a form offensive to the German government."

LOOK FOR FUND SOURCE

Government Agents Think I. W. W. Money Came From Germany

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 10.—Government agents today were trying to ascertain whether any of the $100,000 fund said to have been distributed in propaganda through the local office of the I. W. W. during the past year came from German sources. The existence of this fund was revealed through records seized in the recent raid on I. W. W. headquarters here, a federal officer said today. The government possesses the name of every person to whom this money was sent and a list of donors.

DAMAGE FROM FROST FEARED

Grain Expert Says it Will Cause a Heavy Loss.

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 10.—Farmers of eastern Iowa, Northern Illinois, Northern Indiana and Ohio face a loss of millions of dollars tonight through frost predicted by the government weather bureau.

This was the statement today by a local grain expert, who said a killing frost at this time would render more than a hundred million bushels of corn unfit for commercial use. The frost bitten corn would have to be used for feed on the farms at once.

AGENT APPEALS 162 DRAFT CASES

Names of All Men Who Have Been Exempted For Any Cause Sent to District Board.

ACCORDING TO INSTRUCTIONS

A. L. Gary Will Acquaint Himself With All Cases Preparatory to Going Before Board.

A. L. Gary, local appeal agent for the government, today gave formal notice of appeal to the district board in 162 cases. This was done according to instructions received last Saturday and also the original instructions, which were that all cases should be sent to the district board for final settlement.

The list of 162 names posted in the clerk's office include all of the men examined and passed by the local board, including those who were given exemption because of dependents. The only names not on the list are those who were discharged because of physical disability. It has always been understood that all cases were automatically appealed but the instructions under which Mr. Gary is working provide for his posting the list of appeal.

All of the men examined and passed by the local board are included in the list now posted. This list includes the names of men already in the military service and when Mr. Gary appears before the district board proper proof of this will be submitted and the men exempted by the district board. Under the new interpretation about the only authority the local board has is to examine the men and discharge those who are not physically fit.

Mr. Gary hopes to acquaint himself with the facts regarding each man's case and when called before the district board will submit such facts as he is able to gather. The list of 162 names does not, of course, include any of those who have been certified previously for service by the local board. Neither does it include the names of any men who have been refused exemption. Nine appeals were taken previously by the appeal agent and the total number of cases from this county for the district board to act upon appeal totals 171.

It is almost certain that the county's quota of 66 will be obtained from this number. Of course, there are a number of cases filed directly with the district board seeking exemption on occupational grounds that will also be acted upon, but if the district board is as lenient with this class as it was with the first case of this kind, the chances of securing the county's quota are not so great.

Mr. Gary is expecting to be called to Fort Wayne any day. The next set of men from this county to go to Louisville, representing 40 per cent of the quota, will leave on September 19, and it is imperative that the district board act on the cases before that time.

BREAKS AWAY FROM BUGGY

Runs Between Telephone Pole and Fence South of City.

A horse driven by Will Carter, colored, became unruly when the road near Albert Capp's home south of the city was blocked by a motor truck, Sunday, and backed into the ditch. The animal then ran up into the road and into the ditch on the other side between a telephone pole and a fence. The buggy caught on the pole and the fence and the horse broke loose, running on to the Capp farm. No one was hurt, but the buggy was damaged. Carter works for Albert Capp.

Lieutenant Pearsey was commissioned several weeks ago. He will be in the same camp with Company B, Fourth Indiana Infantry, of this city.

LITTLE GIRL FINDS AN HONEST SHOWMAN

One Here Saturday Night Captures Young Robber Who Stole Mary Wilson's Locket.

HE MADE THE BOY RETURN IT

It is proverbial that when a person is around followers of a circus, he is among thieves, but today Fred Wilson, 1022 North Perkins street, told the story of an honest man who was with the Buffalo Bill-Jess Willard show. He may not be there long, but he was Saturday night, when Mr. Wilson's two daughters, Mary, age fourteen, and a younger sister, visited the show grounds.

They were standing listening to a ballyho man when a young man snatched a locket from the neck of Mary Wilson and ran. It was a gift from the little girl's grandmother. It chanced that a stand man with the show saw the theft and he hastily assured the two girls, who were alone, that he would bring the thief to book and gave chase, telling the girls to remain where they were.

The stand man caught the young robber, searched him and found nothing but fifty cents in money. The stand man threatened to turn him over to the police and the youngster was frightened. He confessed selling the locket to another stand man on the ground. The protector of the two girls led him to the place where he sold the locket, gave back the fifty cents and returned the locket to the little girl.

THROWN FROM CAR AND NECK BROKEN

Fred Daum, Foreigner of Connersville, Meets With Fatal Accident. Northeast of Raleigh.

RACING WITH ANOTHER CAR

Fred Daum, a foreigner, whose home was in Connersville, was killed Sunday on the Milton pike northeast of Raleigh while racing with another machine Daum, who was twenty-four years old, formerly served in the Austrian army.

Daum was riding in a light speedster and as he passed another car his machine hit a culvert at the side of the road and threw him out, breaking his neck and fracturing his skull.

Daum was riding alone. He had been racing with the people in another car and was in the act of passing them when the accident happened.

The automobile in which he was riding turned four complete somersaults.

GOES IN DITCH AT TURN

A Ripley county man's automobile went into the ditch on a sharp turn on the Shelbyville pike a few miles west of the city yesterday, but no one was hurt. A repair man from this city went to the scene of the accident and fixed the car, but the name of the driver was not learned.

MAY GET VALUABLE FOOD SUGGESTIONS

Each Woman Signing Membership Card Likely to Receive "Membership Outfit"

64 PAGE BOOK AND WALL CARD

Woman's Division of Defense Council Hopes to Distribute Them at Fair

A "membership outfit" will probably be given free to every woman who signs one of the national food administration membership cards at the county fair this week. The woman's division of the County Council of Defense hoped today to be able to make arrangements with the County Fair association for a booth of some sort at the fair.

Mrs. A. L. Stewart, who is at the head of the woman's branch of the county defense body, went to Indianapolis today and expected to get a supply of the "membership outfits" for distribution at the fair.

Each woman who signs one of the cards will be given a sixty-four page book entitled "Ten Lessons in Food Conservation," a kitchen "War Creed" wall card outlining the ideas of Mr. Hoover for household saving, and a three-colored window-membership card.

It was the original plan of the food administration to mail these things from Washington to all signers of the food card, but it has been decided that the women will be much more anxious to sign the card if they are shown definitely a few of the helpful and educational things that the food administration is going to give them.

Women who sign the cards will be constantly receiving valuable suggestions from the food administration, not orders or commands, but pieces of instructive literature prepared by the government at great expense. "The Ten Lessons on Food Conservation" book is alone well worth the trouble of signing one of the cards.

Women who have already signed the cards will be mailed their "membership outfits," but new signers, from now on, will receive their outfits at the time they sign.

IS CAUSE TO MAKE WAR DECLARATION

Sweden's Action in Transmitting German Messages is Sufficient Grounds, London States

DENIED BY SWEDISH LEGATION

(By United Press.)

London, Sept. 10.—Sweden's action in transmitting German cipher messages through her foreign minister is sufficient cause for a declaration of war by England under international law, it was stated here today. The acts of her minister are binding upon the nation.

The disposition of England is not to enforce British rights to this degree, it was stated. The Swedish legation here today issued the following statement:

"It is quite unthinkable that the Swedish government had official knowledge of the alleged communications. It is equally improbable that the foreign minister was personally aware of the matter."

Washington, Sept. 10.—The United States government has no intention now of breaking relations with Sweden because of the secret communications forwarded for Germany by the Buenos Aires Swedish minister. While Sweden's explanation may alter the American position, it was made officially clear today that the United States does not feel itself to be the injured party.

FAIRBANKS MAY SPEAK WEDNESDAY

Former Vice-president Probably Will Deliver Address at Fair Demonstration.

SOLDIER SOLOIST IS COMING

Red Cross Will Have Exhibit in the Floral Hall, But May Not Make Supplies There.

It was announced today that Charles W. Fairbanks of Indianapolis, former vice-president of the United States, would probably make the address at the patriotic demonstration for the men drawn for the army at the Rush county fair Wednesday, although it is not definitely settled. A basket dinner will be served for the men at noon.

The fair association has made arrangement with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gregg of Indianapolis to come here during the fair and sing "Good-bye My Soldier Boy." The song was written by Mr. Gregg, a member of the Forty-fifth United States regiment, and copies of the song will be sold at the fair, a large percentage of the proceeds going to the mess fund of the local military companies. It is planned to have the men who will go to the national army sell the song.

The executive committee of the Rush county chapter of the Red Cross met this morning and was informed that the Red-Cross could have space in the floral hall for an exhibit during the fair. Since it is not definitely determined how much room there will be, it can't be stated whether all the activities of the Red Cross will be moved to the fair grounds for the week.

It was the original plan to do all of the work in the floral hall this week, but if this is not possible on account of limited space, there will at least be a display of supplies which have been made by the Red Cross and one or two persons at the exhibit all the time to explain the work and solicit workers.

Concessions, show stuff and race horses began to arrive in large numbers today. There was not much stuff on the ground Sunday, but the largest crowd in years was there.

BOND ISSUE GOES TO PEOPLES BANK

Is Purchased by Local Financial Institution For $32.75 Premium—Individual Bids.

ISSUE TO BUILD MCCOY ROAD

A bond issue of $7,520 for the construction of the Joseph G. McCoy road in Posey township was sold this afternoon by the county treasurer to the Peoples National bank of this city for $32.75. For the first time in many years an individual submitted a bid for the bonds, Jesse Leisure offering the sum of $22.56 for the bonds. The bid of the Peoples National bank was the highest received.

Other bids follow: R. L. Dollings Company, $10; Breed, Elliott and Harrison, $3.80; Jesse A. Leisure, $22.56; Arlington National bank, $16; Rush County National bank, $26.32.

FAILS TO FORM MINISTRY.

Paris, Sept. 10.—Failure of Premier Ribot to form a new ministry was announced today. His resignation with the entire cabinet is believed to have been submitted. The minister of war, M. Rainleve, has been entrusted with forming a new ministry.

Mr. and Mrs. Noley Newhouse and daughter visited in Indianapolis yesterday.

TWO CARS COLLIDE HEADON

Neither is Badly Damaged in Accident Near Show Grounds

Two automobiles collided in West Third street Saturday night near the show grounds, but no great damage was done. The drivers of both machines claimed they did not see one another due to the congestion of traffic. The left front wheel and fender on the machine owned by Joseph A. Caffee was bent and broken and had to be taken to a local garage. The other car belonged to an Andersonville man, whose name was not learned, but he was able to drive it home.

BOOSTING OF NEW LOAN IS DISCUSSED

FOUR MINUTE MEN CAMPAIGN

Additional members were added Saturday to the committee which will boost the second Liberty Loan at the meeting of the County Council of Defense and ways and means of advertising the loan were discussed. The council conferred with the bankers committee, appointed earlier last week, and it was augmented by more members.

It was decided at the meeting that the Four Minute Men campaign could be used to advertise the second Liberty Loan and that many of the ideas which worked well in the Red-Cross campaign will be resorted to in the bond sale. The Four Minute Men Campaign will consist of speeches at motion picture theatres.

The full committee in charge of the campaign in this county will be as follows: Earl H. Payne, chairman; Wilbur Stiers, secretary; Lewis M. Sexton, treasurer; A. B. Irvin, Howard Hanley, Fred Lightfoot, Thomas K. Mull, Clarence Brown, John F. McKee, T. G. Richardson, J. F. Downey, E. B. Lowden, Bert B. Benner, E. B. Thomas, Joseph H. Pike, Ben Owen, Jesse A. Leisure, Frank McCorkle, M. W. Lyons, Charles Trowbridge, Nathan Price, Winona Newsom, Otis Miller and Dr. C. L. Smullen.

FORMALLY DECLARED IN A STATE OF WAR

Petrograd is Stage For Plot Organized by Commander of Army to Control Government

PROCLAMATION BY KERENSKY

By WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD (U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Petrograd, Sept. 10.—Petrograd was today formally declared in a state of war.

Premier Kerensky issued a proclamation revealing a plot by General Korniloff, commander-in-chief of the Russian army, to assume control of the government. Korniloff was immediately dismissed.

Kerensky's proclamation said: "Former premier Lvoff arrived in Petrograd Saturday demanding in General Korniloff's name that I deliver all civil and military authority to the general who would form a new government. This summons was afterwards confirmed by Korniloff personally. I have ordered General Korniloff to hand over his functions to the commander-in-chief of the army of the northern front which army now bars the enemy's way to Petrograd. I also declare a state of war in the district of Petrograd. I appeal to all citizens to remain calm and fulfill their duty to the fatherland against a foreign enemy."

BOYS BELIEVE IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

After Appeal Published in Republican, Sanitary Detachment is "Showered" With Chickens

VISITORS AT CAMP SUNDAY

See Review of Fourth Regiment Which is Participated in by Unit From This City

A number of local people were at Fort Harrison yesterday to see the members of the sanitary detachment of the Fourth Regiment and witness the parade of the Fourth Regiment. The local boys are all in good health and are enjoying the life.

The regiment passed in review before Col. E. A. Root and Col. Moorehead at four-thirty o'clock.

The local boys are comfortably located and mix pleasure with hard work in about equal proportions. The sanitary detachment is located at the south end of the last company street to the east of the camp.

The boys are firm believers in advertising. Last Tuesday a letter was published in the Daily Republican from Raymond Bennings stating that the detachment would welcome some fried chicken. On Thursday local people answered the call and enough fried chicken was taken to the camp for the entire detachment.

Jerry Sullivan continues to provide a lot of fun for the boys. Yesterday Bennings shined a pair of shoes preparatory for the review. He thought they were his shoes but they turned out to be Sullivan's. Now Jerry is calling Raymond his "orderly."

Private Walker is now acting as orderly to Major Carey. Major Carey has been giving several of the boys a chance at this job and no definite appointment has been made. George Hogsett is acting as orderly to Lt. Gagenaw.

There is considerable speculation as to when the detachment is to be sent to Hattiesburg. There are no definite orders, but it is generally believed that within the next three weeks the company will likely leave.

The review before the commanding officers yesterday afternoon was a pretty sight and was witnessed by several thousand people. The Fourth regiment band provided the music.

Among those from here who were at the fort yesterday were: Miss Nancy Hogsett, Mrs. Ernest Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Mulbarger, Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Spivey, Rex Readle, Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Simpson, Mrs. J. R. Carmichael, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hiner, Mrs. Marion Finney, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Enkris, Mr. and Mrs. John Blackledge, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frazee and daughter Miss Helen, Mrs. Will McBride, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Winslip, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Young, Dr. and Mrs. Carl Beher, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mullin, Mrs. Bert Davidson and son Paul, Mrs. Lowell M. Green and guests Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Giltner of Pittsburg, Pa.

Light as Chaff

Matrimonial Poser.
 Billy was about to be married, and his friends—married friends—were giving him good advice, the burden of which was "Forget it!"

But Billy was not to be dissuaded.
 "Oh, I don't know," he replied. "Marriage is all right if you take it in the right way. Now, all this talk about matrimonial quarrels, arguments, and so on, is all nonsense. Surely you can accept one another's point of view. And, anyway, there's always an answer to every argument."
 "Oh, is there?" growled the old married man. "I tell you, my boy, there's one argument in married life that you'll never be able to answer."
 "Really? And what's that?"
 "Why, when your wife says, 'If the Browns can afford it we can.' You try to find an answer to that!"

Age of the Beast.
 A man who wanted to buy a horse
 asked how to tell the horse's age.

"By his teeth,"
 was the reply.
 The next day the man went to the horse dealer, who showed him
 a splendid black horse.

The horse
 hunter, opened
 the animal's mouth and turned on his heel.

"I don't want him," said he. "He is thirty-two years old."
 He had counted his teeth.

CYNICISMS.

He was so generally civil that nobody thanked him for it—
 Samuel Johnson.

I had rather have a fool to make me merry than experience to make me sad.—Shakespeare.

Most of our misfortunes are more supportable than the comments of our friends upon them.

tended to inform the public on the progress of the war and of official acts
 in that connection.

Mr. Creel has made a reputation as a writer, reformer, orator and fighter.
 He has worked hard for woman suffrage and for the abolition of child labor. He was associated with Judge Lindsey of Denver and served as police commissioner of the Colorado capital. His work in the investigation of the working conditions of the miners of Colorado attracted nation wide attention. Mr. Creel married Blanche
 Bates, the famous actress.

Caring for the Lawn During Hot Weather

Maintenance of an attractive blue grass lawn necessitates the devotion of considerable time to its care, points out M. F. Aburn, professor of landscape gardening in the Kansas State
 Agricultural college.

The lawn should be cut every ten days to two weeks, and it is advisable to set the knives of the mower as high as possible to avoid injuring the young, succulent cells near the roots, by permitting the sun's rays to burn out the roots. It may be necessary to weed the lawn once or twice provided it has been seeded in the spring.

During July and August the lawn will require closer attention than at any other time. Where shade is not abundant it will be necessary to irrigate and perhaps do some hand weeding. Maintaining vigorous growth of grass early in the season will help to carry it through this trying period. It would also be of great help if no cutting were done from the last of July to the middle of September. For the small lawn the price of a good stand of grass is constant attention and good care.

Mother's Doll Story

The Pet Duck

Once upon a time there was a little boy, Dicky, who had a pet duck. This ducky daddie was a doll stuffed with nice soft cotton. The dannel body was pale yellow, and his bill was black velvet. He was a lovely pet to play with because he never quacked too
 loudly and he never nipped Dicky's hands.

"Let's go and sail boats in the pool,
 Ducky," said Dicky one nice summer day.

"All right. Go put on your swimming trunks," said Ducky.

So off they danced to the corner of the yard where there was a cement pool that Dicky's papa used to wash
 the flower boxes in. Hot days he filled it with water, so Dicky could paddle and wade right in his own yard.

Splash went something right into the water. Ducks can't help dashing into water, you know. It's their nature. And when Ducky came up his black velvet bill had stained his yellow back so that Dicky had to have a new pet to take to bed with him that night.

A Past Custom.

You, no doubt, have heard the term
 "baker's dozen." You have never received more than the usual twelve loaves for your money, though in olden time you would surely have been given thirteen. In those days the law was very strict about shortages in weights and measures. The bakers were afraid that somehow they would not give full weight, so to be sure they got into the habit of giving thirteen loaves for the price of twelve. Thus it was that thirteen came to be called the baker's dozen.

Daisies.

Meadows of swaying whiteness.
 Can you guess what they may be?
 Endless billows of flowers,
 An ever moving sea.

What but meadows of daisies
 To the far horizon's brink?
 Many of them are past me
 Home in the distance dim.

Fair Week

For 50 years Fair Week has been the big week of the year to the people of Rush county. For 12 years we have enjoyed a large

Some shoes actually take the joy out of life, because the feet ache and pain continually. Our shoes are logical for women who are on their feet much of the time.

Our shoes are made over lasts which are drafted to the lines of the foot, which equalizes the weight and protects sensitive joints against pressure.

You can easily forget your tired and aching feet and walk with

DETECTIVES LOOK FOR SHOW EMPLOYEES

Half Dozen Here Saturday Searching For Men Who Nearly Killed Man Named Kelly

SHOW HAS GOOD PATRONAGE

A half dozen Pennsylvania railroad detectives were here Saturday on a "still" hunt for a gang of Buffalo Bill—Jess Willard show employees who inflicted probably fatal injuries on another show employee named Kelly at Marion Friday night. Detectives also anticipated a general fight similar to the one at Marion.

A search of the twenty-eight cars in the show train was made by detectives and police officials at Richmond the day before the show came here, but the men who were known to have beat Kelly had fled. Kelly is in a Marion hospital and little hope is held out for his recovery.

The show left here before midnight Saturday for Louisville where it showed today. The show enjoyed good patronage here, especially at the afternoon performance when many persons had to stand up. The program contained the usual things which are seen at a wild west show and had added circus features. Tumblers, clowns, elephants, trick horses, bareback riding, a trained monkey, a sparring bout between Jess Willard and his sparring partner were included in the hour and a half program.

TURNS OVER AT CULVERT

James Mahin's Machine Badly Damaged West of Rushville.

An automobile owned and driven by James Mahin of Morristown was badly damaged Saturday when it upset at a culvert near the Bruce Johnson farm, west of the city. Mahin was accompanied by a man named Talbert of Morristown, but neither was badly hurt. Mahin failed to see the end of the culvert and when the front wheel struck it the machine turned over in the ditch.

A Good Friend

A good friend stands by you when in need. Rushville people tell how Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test. Mr. Priest endorsed Doan's over six years ago and again confirms the story. Could you ask for more convincing testimony?

Geo. Priest, 223 W. Third St., Rushville, says: "I have been afflicted more or less with kidney trouble for several years. It came on me gradually and each day, I could notice that it was becoming worse. It started with a dull pain directly over my kidneys, dizzy spells followed and there seemed to be specks before my eyes. Doan's Kidney Pills procured from Johnson's Drug Store freed me from that distressing pain in my back and restored my kidneys to a normal condition."

The above statement was given on March 9, 1910, and on Aug. 26, 1915, Mr. Priest said: Whenever my kidneys bother me I use Doan's Kidney Pills and they always give me good results."

Control Over News

The Muncie Press, edited by George Lockwood, who is the most forceful, virile and clear-thinking editorial writer in Indiana, contributes a long chapter on the episode growing out of Senator James E. Watson's speech before the Virginia state convention last week.

He says that "the disreputable character of the control exercised over the columns of many of the metropolitan newspapers and the principal news distributing agencies of the country at this time, and the dishonest use being made by certain politicians of the war emergency, is illustrated anew in the handling of the speech made by Senator James E. Watson, of Indiana, at the recent Republican state convention in Virginia."

"A few weeks ago Senator Watson said to the editor of this paper that proper and honest discussion in the Senate was practically impossible because of the well-known fact that if even the most flagrant abuse, detrimental to the best military, naval or economic policy, were opposed in Congress, no honest account of the utterances would be sent out, but the story would be carried that the critic had 'made a savage attack on the President,' and other coloring matter would be added to make it appear that the Congressman speaking was a traitor to the United States and a tool of the kaiser. In other words, there is control of news channels which amounts to blackmail and it is employed as a means of terrorism certain in time to bring upon the country the results which always follow the complete stifling of honest criticism or opposition to any detail of an executive program. We all know where England was heading until a Northcliffe arose to attack and overthrow this vicious system of treating every dissenter in any matter of policy as a public enemy. We have the same situation in this country, but no journalist has appeared big enough to arise above the dead level of subserviency and conventionality and strike at it for what it is—an enemy little less dangerous than the foreign foe we are confronting."

"The statement of Senator Watson is shown to be true by what the press associations carried about his speech at the Roanoke convention. It was a deliberate misrepresentation of the letter and spirit of his utterances. He was represented as opposing the war on the ground that it was unpopular. To serve the intended purpose he was put in the attitude of trying to arouse dissatisfaction with the war, when as a matter of fact his speech was the very strongest possible appeal to those inclined to be out of sympathy with the war to give to the nation their whole-hearted support. That such an appeal was very necessary in Virginia is well known. Yet the dispatches carry a statement by Carter Glass, a Virginian administration Congressman, in which he repeats the falsehoods about the Watson speech, calls Senator Watson, by inference, a traitor, puts him in the same class with Emma Goldman and advocates clapping him in jail. It is indeed a shocking to note this tenderness as to treason coming from a politician who would scream like a Comanche if the sainted memory of Jefferson Davis were assailed; if he and his colleagues were criticized for using a session of the House to celebrate the birthday of a statesman who not only criticized an administration in time of war, but gathered armies and ammunition and spent four years fighting the American government and the American flag, for what he believed to be sufficient cause."

The Muncie Press has a copy of the old Dominion, published August 31, at Roanoke, Va., the place of the Virginia republican convention, immediately after the adjournment of the body. It contains a pretty full account of the speech of Senator Watson. That paper, edited by the secretary of the Virginia Republican organization, describes the utterance as "a great war speech," and continues: "It was considered, even by rank opposition partisans as being a great patriotic effort. It was a speech calculated to popularize the great struggle in the minds of many people who heretofore have been lukewarm or openly opposed to the prosecution of the war to the finish, and it is the duty of every patriotic American to do all in his power to bring it to a triumphant conclusion."

The Press says that the outline of the speech in the Old Dominion justifies this description of the utterance and then prints a brief resume of the speech.

"There can be little doubt but that many a person received a far better insight into why America is in the war than he ever had before, and will in the future be less liable to utter criticisms tended to still make the war unpopular in the minds of the general public," says the Old Dominion.

The Muncie Press then continues its comment as follows:

"This is the speech concerning which three Indianapolis daily papers are printing dispatches and communications intended to make the people believe that one of the Senators from their state has made an unpatriotic, even a treasonable utterance. It is a part of the vast fabric of falsehood which has been spread over this country by controlled agencies of publicity which are doing more harm to the cause of the country than the kaiser and all his soldiers, sailors, plotters and spies. In fact, the German government could well afford to be the agency whereby such activities as this are subsidized. The chief traitors and the most useful tool of the enemy is the men or newspaper which unjustly impugns the loyalty of any patriotic citizen."

"As for the statement of Congressman Carter Glass, the Virginia politician who seeks to make partisan use of this vicious perversion of facts, and who, after having had, according to his own statement, a denial from the secretary of the Virginia state Republican committee that Mr. Watson was correctly quoted, suggests that the Indiana Senator should be taken in charge and prosecuted for the treasonable speech he made at Roanoke, it is easy to understand why Glass is guilty of such indecent conduct against a Congressional colleague. The party of opposition has set out to make Virginia safe for democracy. Attack is being made upon a system whereby, out of an electorate a half million votes, only 140,000 are permitted to vote; a system under which by force, fraud and legal trickery, a common wealth which lies in sight of the White House, has been denied the form of government it is proposed to erect in Germany upon the ruins of the existing dynasty. In other words, it is proposed to bring to an end in Virginia, practices in the light of which phrases about democracy which fall trippingly from the tongue of politicians of the Old Dominion prominent in political life, become but the hypocritical yap of desperate demagogues."

"As to the effect of Senator Watson's speech, which a Washington dispatch to an Indianapolis paper says will be made the issue of the Virginia campaign, the result of the election in November, in so far as an election is permitted under the system prevailing there to be indicative of public opinion, will furnish final evidence. Even the practice of turning voters of the opposition party away from the polls because they can not give the name of the smallest republic in the world, or solve a problem in differ-

Current Comment

The Superfluous Middleman (Newspaperdom)

The misnamed Committee on Public Information at Washington has bowed to newspaper opinion in one respect, but it persists in the role self-constituted censor, although denied by Congress any right to the name or the function of such an office. Chairman George Creel recently authorized the announcement that his institution would discontinue the issuance of ready-made news and feature stories and would substitute bare, unvarnished statements of fact. The reason for this change was found, presumably, in the fact that the newspaper press refused, for the most part, to use the predigested stuff from the Creel agency unless it was rewritten in the office of publication.

Since Creel has been refused by Congress any credentials as a censor, and inasmuch as all the government departments have in the past done very well unsided, thank you, in gaining publicity for their official announcements, it was difficult for the unsophisticated newspaper man to fathom what there would be left for Creel and his crowd to do if word painting were to be cut out. However, Newspaperdom was not long left in mystification. Mr. Creel announces that his men will cover, to the exclusion of others, the executive departments and others news sources—will forsooth, be received there as trusted government employees, not as mere newspaper reporters—and will in due course pass on to the waiting press such information as is deemed wise.

The delays in transmission, the increased liability to error, and a dozen other good and sufficient reasons, condemn the injection between the government and newspapers of this superfluous middleman, but worse of all is the denial to the working newspaper men of the personal touch in federal news gathering. Under the Creel autocracy it is impracticable for a writer, save by special arrangement, with no end of red tape, to obtain opportunity to gain information at first-hand from the various experts in the government service—men whose views and news are of the utmost interest at this time. It is nothing short of censorship, and censorship of the most obnoxious and irritating kind, and it restricts the public in news it receives to the purely superficial. The specialist is newsgathering who has his subject at his finger tips, who can propound intelligent questions in interviewing, and who knows what is new and what is old on a subject, finds all the hard-won qualifications of experience set at naught through the necessity of establishing indirect contact with his news source via an intermediary who doubtless means well.

entail calculus or recite the first twenty lines of the Anabasis, while voters of the party in power who can not read or write are permitted to cast their ballots without interference, will hardly save a political oligarchy which has put the mock in democracy at home while supposedly fighting for it abroad, from destroyed defeat, especially when it employs such disreputable political methods as are exemplified in this case of Senator Watson's convention address."

TRAIL BOOSTERS MEETING

Seek Highway From Cincinnati to Kalamazoo, Mich.

(By United Press.)

Fort Wayne, Sept. 10.—"Trail boosters" of Ohio, Indiana and Michigan are in session today in Fort Wayne laying plans for construction of an automobile highway stretching from Cincinnati to Kalamazoo, via Richmond and Fort Wayne. M. B. Luecke, vice president of the Hoosier State Automobile association and chairman of the committee to arrange details of the state's system of auto trails, called the conference here.

The trail boosters plan to ask aid of the state highway committee in construction and repair work along the highway.

Indiana members of the committee directing the campaign for the trail are Charles J. Beiderwolf, chairman; J. V. Taylor of Winchester; C. J. Munton, of Kendallville; and George Cohler of LaGrange.

Cheating on the Job

One of the features of this materialistic age and the natural expression of it is where men accept jobs and then neglect to attend to them honestly. There is general complaint upon this score. The usual form of the dishonesty comes in putting more time on a job than is necessary.

This is a form of rank dishonesty. It comes in the shape of devoting three hours to a job that ought not to take more than two. It is strange how easily men's hearts become hardened to all these apparently innocent frauds. They seem not to care how much a job costs a man, provided they are not the man. The indifference to the other fellow's welfare is one of the great sins of the age, of which reputed good men are about as guilty as the reputed bad.

One of the highest duties of a man's life is to see that he doesn't cheat somebody, but this duty is almost universally neglected. Our Christianity needs a vigorous brushing up.—Ohio State Journal.

A wedding of much interest to many friends in this city, was that of Miss Myra Seidenstricker and Henry Chaffant Holton, both of Indianapolis last Saturday afternoon at four o'clock. The beautiful wedding was solemnized at the home of the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. George Seidenstricker. The ceremony room was banked with palms flanked with huge bouquets of hydrangeas and pink asters. Tall cathedral candles gave the light. The bride was lovely in a frock of white georgette crepe fashioned over satin with silver ornaments. She carried a large bouquet of lilies of the valley. A picturesque black velvet hat added to the attractive appearance of the bride. The bride's sister, Miss Stella, was maid of honor and the Misses Wanita Driscoll and Frances Hunt were chosen as bridesmaids. Raymond Brandes acted as best man. The attractive attendants of the bride were beautifully gowned in pink frocks with large black velvet hats and carried pink roses.

After the ceremony an elaborate supper was given, and Mr. and Mrs. Holton left immediately for an extended trip. Mr. Holton is well known in this city, having visited here many times.

On last Saturday, Sept. 8, at eight o'clock, a beautiful but quiet wedding was solemnized at the Methodist parsonage at Albion, Mich., when Miss Ella May James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Meek of Albion, Mich., and Donald J. Sampson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lot Sampson of Falmouth, Ind., were united in marriage by the Rev. A. R. Johns. The ring ceremony was used. The bride was gowned in a beautiful dress of white georgette crepe and carried a shower bouquet of brides roses and ferns. The bridesmaid, Miss Anna Frank of Wakershaw, Wis., was becomingly gowned in white and carried an immense bouquet of pink asters. Rynald Frank of Marshall, Mich., acted as best man.

After a short stay in Michigan and a visit to points in northern Indiana, Mr. and Mrs. Sampson will return to Rush county, where they will make their home.

Announcement has been received here of the engagement of Miss Besie Behrends, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Behrends of Chicago and Arthur Kenner, also of Chicago, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Kenner of Noble township. The wedding will take place at the bride's home next Saturday evening and they will be at home in Chicago after October 1 following a short wedding trip. Mr. Kenner has been employed in Chicago for four years as an electrical engineer by the Western Electric company.

Miss Pauline Gosnell was the charming hostess, last evening when she entertained with a luncheon at her home in West Second street, honoring her house guest, Miss Martha Ellen Hupp of Shelbyville. Masses of pink and white asters embellished the center of the prettily laid table and covers were laid for the Misses Martha Ellen Hupp and Ray Byrd of Shelbyville and Robert May of Indianapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hyatt entertained with a well appointed dinner Sunday at their country home southeast of Milroy, when their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Norval Hudson, sons Robert and Lowell and daughter Thelma of Gings, Mrs. Flora Jackson, Burney Jackson, Chester Richey of Milroy and the Misses Myrtle and Nora Jackson of this city.

Thirty-four members of the You, I, Go club and two guests, Mr. and Mrs. Elia Hilligoss were entertained by Mrs. Sarah Logan yesterday at her country home, southeast of this city. At noon a sumptuous pitch-in dinner was served and in the afternoon a social time was enjoyed by the guests.

The date of the marriage of Miss Nora Moran and Paul LeGrange was announced at the

The ninth annual reunion of the Hilligoss family was held yesterday at the city park, the day being such an ideal one accounting for the large attendance. At noon an elegant dinner was served. The table was centered by a large cake baked by Mrs. Lon Hilligoss of Greenfield. Out-of-town guests were in attendance from Indianapolis, Greenfield, Anderson, Chicago Heights, Ill., Shelbyville, Vincennes and Connersville. During the afternoon several interesting talks were given, including one by George Hall. In his address he told of the life of Michael Hilligoss, the first treasurer of the United States, whose picture appears on all ten dollar gold certificates. Officers for the coming year were elected with Webster Hilligoss of Sharpesville, president; John Logan, vice-president; Mrs. Dora Hilligoss, secretary-treasurer. The next meeting will be held at Mounds Park, at Anderson, the second Sunday in September, 1918.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Clifton of Gings, Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth Kiser, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Porter and son and William Kiser of Sexton, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kiser and daughter of Dunreith motored to Newcastle Sunday and were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Boyd.

The committee of the Modern Woodman lodge will give a dance in the Woodman Hall, Thursday evening. Music will be provided by Miss Lucile Linn and Charles Sherman.

About thirty-five relatives and friends went to the home of Mrs. G. W. Titworth near Orange, yesterday to celebrate her 72nd birthday. At noon they enjoyed a pitch-in dinner. Mr. and Mrs. John Titworth of this city were among the guests.

The ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps will have a pitch-in dinner Wednesday at the fair grounds. All of the members are urged to bring their dinners and enjoy the day. The members will meet at Mrs. Lyons stand any time during the morning.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Berry entertained about twenty guests yesterday with a high noon dinner at their home in East First street, honoring the birthday of Mrs. Seth Moore. A splendid three course dinner was served at noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Winship and daughters, the Misses Nelle and Cora, were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Buford Winship yesterday at their home in East Second street.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Wamsley and daughter Catherine were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dora Hilligoss, at their country home southwest of this city last evening.

The Young Ladies Circle of the Christian church will meet with Mrs. Wilbur Wilson this evening at her home, 424 North Sexton street.

MASONIC MEETING

There will be a stated meeting of Phoenix lodge No. 62 F. & A. M. Tuesday evening at 7:30 p. m. A large attendance is desired.

Directions For Canning Fruits Without Sugar

The use of sugar, of course, is desirable in the canning of all kinds of fruits and makes a better and ready sweetened product. Moreover, most of the fruits when canned in water alone do not retain their natural flavor, texture and color as well as fruit put up in sirup. Fruit canned without sugar to be used for sauces or desserts must be sweetened.

Can the product the same day it is picked. Cull, stem or seed and clean the fruit by placing it in a strainer and pouring water over it until it is clean. Pack the product thoroughly in glass jars or tin cans until they are full. Use the handle of a tablespoon, wooden ladle or table knife for packing purposes. Pour over the fruit boiling water from a kettle, place rubbers and caps in position, partially seal if using glass jars; seal completely if using tin cans. Place the containers in a sterilizing vat, such as a wash boiler with false bottom or other receptacle improvised for the purpose. If using a hot water bath outfit, process for thirty minutes. Count time after the water has reached the boiling point. The water must cover the highest jar in container. After sterilizing remove packs, seal glass jars, wrap in paper to prevent bleaching and store in a dry, cool place.

If you are canning in tin cans it will improve the product to plunge the cans quickly into cold water immediately after sterilization. When using a steam pressure canner instead of the hot water bath sterilize for ten minutes with five pounds of steam pressure. Never allow the pressure to go over ten pounds.

A Cooking Hint.

The quality and flavor of meat or fish can be injured by overcooking or improper cooking. If fats are allowed to burn even a little they develop unpleasant flavors. If this happens in making gravies and sauces or in trying foods the food will usually not be eaten. Burned meat is also disagreeable, and so are burned vegetables.

Reduce Food Bills.

The same standard "Eat enough food and no more" rigidly followed would reduce greatly food bills in many homes and at the same time tend to improve the physical condition of all members of the household.

IDLE WOMEN.

There are too many idle women in the world. This is not because of a lack of work, but a characteristic of certain females to think they have no responsibility in life. All life must be responsible or it is worthless. Vigorous work would cure scores of so called feminine ailments and make the world of women more helpful than it is.—Marie Corelli.

Inspiration Miscellany

Habits Are Forces

Even without considering at all the common bad habits, just think of the thousand and one little habits that largely determine one's every thought and act. In the commonest things every one is influenced by innumerable little habits that he seldom suspects. Hardly an impression, emotion, opinion, resolution or action is possible to us that is not influenced, directed and colored by fixed conditions within our selves—habits.

Almost every move in the process of the morning's dressing, for example, is involuntary and calls for no conscious thought. Your mind is absorbed in mapping out the day's work while habit is washing and dressing you.

Habit accustoms us to doing most of the everyday things in particular ways, and we consciously turn the mind to them only when they chance to be done differently. The dividing line between efficiency and inefficiency is largely right here. Any one who stops to think about it can easily see that innumerable little habits make up a very large part of our lives. It is, indeed, well worth while carefully to study the host of little habits that breed and hide in the most secret cells of brain and muscle. None of them is too small to be worth attention.

Bad habits are the little threads with which the weak Lilliputians bound the strong Gulliver in helplessness.

Good habits are like a well made harness, enabling us to do our work in the world with less friction and waste of energy.

Habits we cannot avoid. Nor can we escape being greatly controlled by them. But we have free choice between the habits that are good and helpful and habits that are bad and harmful.—Christian Herald.

Man's Free Will.

Man's free will is but a bird in a cage. He can stop at the lower perch or he can mount to a higher. Then that which is and knows will enlarge his cage, give him a higher and a higher perch and at last break off the top of his cage and let him out to be one with the free will of the universe.—Lord Tennyson.

Girls Who Work

Here is the gist of a discussion at a business conference:

"There's nothing easier than to get out of date in your job. Because you've made a good record don't think you can lie back on it and let it float you the rest of your life. You'll find yourself in backwater in no time."

"You've got to keep growing. One way is to keep interested in what's being done all round you, especially in your own business. Another way is to get some friend you can trust to point out to you where you are slack. Another way is to bring a few tests to bear on yourself at least once or twice a year—not salary tests (these may be deceptive), but work and idea tests."

"We women need to do a lot of growing, whatever our work may be."

BRIGHTNESS OF LIFE.

A more word of cheer in the shadow of night
When discouragement darkens the way
Will illumine our hearts with the glorious light
Of a hopeful and sun brightened day.
When failure confronts us and darkens our goals,
How we long for the clasp of a hand!
It is then that we cry from the depths of our souls
For a friend who can just understand.
A bright, cheery smile often gives us the strength
That we lack in the vortex of strife.
For it lightens our load as we travel the length
Of the care laden path we call life.
So we find, after all, that the things we thought small
Loom colossal above all the host;
That the best of God's gifts are the friends we can call
To our side when we need them most.
—Houston Post.

A NEW DIFFERENCE IN TRACTORS

We were all standing around the elevator platform awaiting our turn to unload our wheat when the conversation drifted to tractors. Joe Smith was just back from one of the big plowing demonstrations and we were anxious to hear about what he had seen.

"There was about the usual number of tractors there this year," he said. "Several new machines just put on the market, and some of them looked mighty good, too. Plowing and other tests were carried on pretty much as usual, but there is a new element in tractor competition this year that hasn't been brought out very forcibly before. It is the kind of fuel a tractor operates on. Gasoline has always been considered a fairly cheap tractor fuel until this year, but now it costs more than twice as much as kerosene. People have not generally realized it before—I know I didn't until I was told about it at the demonstration—but there has been an average difference of about 100 per cent in the price of these two fuels for the past six years. It started me to thinking, and so I sat down at the hotel one evening and figured out what that difference would mean to a man using a tractor of say 10-H. P. on the drawbar and 20 on the belt. I figured that a good average tractor ought to operate on about one pint of gasoline per horse power per hour. That means that a tractor of this size ought to burn about 25 gallons of gasoline in a ten-hour day. Suppose that it cost 19 cents a gallon," he said, taking out his pencil and starting to figure on the side of the building, "that is a fair average price the country over. That makes a day's fuel cost $4.75. Engineers willingly admit that it takes a little more kerosene than gasoline to produce the same power in a kerosene-burning tractor, but kerosene weighs more per gallon than gasoline and contains more heat units, and this means more power per pound, so while it takes more pounds of kerosene than of gasoline to give the same horse power, they give practically the same power, gallon per gallon. Think then what the difference in cost of fuel would amount to. Twenty-five gallons of gasoline we figured would cost about $4.75, but the same quantity of kerosene at 8.4 cents per gallon, which is the average price in the United States, would cost $2.10, a difference of $2.65 for fuel alone every working day. Suppose you use your tractor only three hours a day, or one thousand hours a year. That means a saving of $265 a year on fuel, or in the course of five years, which we will say, just for argument's sake, is the life of the tractor, $1,325—enough to pay for a first-class kerosene tractor and money to spare."

Pretty convincing argument, wasn't it? Well, we all asked a lot of questions about different tractors we had read about, and Joe said:
"There is always one thing you notice at the demonstrations. The old companies that have been in business for a long time do not change the design of their machines very much. They are often improved in small details, but they do not make any radical changes from year to year. On the other hand, there are always a half dozen new queer looking machines, but in the years I have attended demonstrations, I have noticed that the majority of these will not show up the second year. This proves to me that the old timers have the goods to stick to, in spite of all the claims of the new fellows that they have solved the farmer's problems for him in their new machine. I always try to look a tractor over from a common sense standpoint. For instance, I believe a tractor ought to stand on four wheels and have the power applied to the two rear wheels. You would not think much of a three-wheeled motor truck, or one that applied its power to the front wheels and steered from the rear. Besides, when there is only one driving wheel on a tractor, either in front or behind, it has to be so much heavier than either one of the two drivers on a four-wheeled machine, that it packs the soil. There are several other good features I would recommend to any man buying a tractor now. A foot-power brake, for instance, can be applied without removing your hand from the steering wheel. Dust guards over the drivers and chains are a great help on windy days, for they keep the dust out of the driver's eyes and they save a lot of wear on the chains. I notice, too, that most tractors are getting away from the use of batteries for ignition. There are magnets made nowadays which are arranged so that they furnish just as hot a spark for starting as they do for running, and batteries can be eliminated entirely. The engine and all important working parts ought to be enclosed, so that the dirt cannot get into them, and the principal parts ought to be oiled by an automatic oiler. I am not much of a mechanic, but these things look to me to be good common sense, and they are the things that I am going to insist upon having when I buy a tractor."

ADVANCED TO COACH ON THE RIFLE RANGE

BEST SHOTS IN THE WORLD

Ross Hutchinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hutchinson of Arlington, since having won the title of expert rifleman by his good score with the rifle, has been detailed to act as coach or instructor on the firing line at Paris Island, South Carolina, where a training station for the United States Marines is situated. There was a vacancy on the rifle range and on account of his good record with the rifle, he was promptly promoted. It is an extremely important post because upon the instructor depends the shooting ability, in a large measure, of the recruits as they pass through their rifle course.

Not only the winning of the rank as expert rifleman, but the promotion to instructor is a distinct honor for the Arlington boy. About 75 per cent of the men on the range where he is located qualify as marksmen, the lowest rank, or better. It is the highest record of any range in the Marine Corps and the Marines are the best shots, as a whole in the world.

TWO BICYCLES RECOVERED

Negroes With Show in Act of Placing Them on The Train

Bicycles belonging to Virgil Hileman and Arch Stout were recovered by the police Saturday night from two negroes with the Jess Willard show. The bicycles were taken from the rear of a house in Beuna Vista avenue and were about to be placed on the show train as it was leaving the city when the police recovered them. The colored men were not arrested.

Amusements

A novel feature with the Sells-Floto circus, which will be in Shelbyville, Thursday Sept. 13th is a group of artists' models who pose the most celebrated paintings and statuary. These young women were selected from art schools throughout the country. Being familiar with the famous paintings of the world the models pose while the platforms on which they stand slowly revolve.

There are five groups of models. So expert are they that the trainers with the circus imposed upon the original offering by adding animals to the pictures. Horses, dogs and ponies are in the poses.

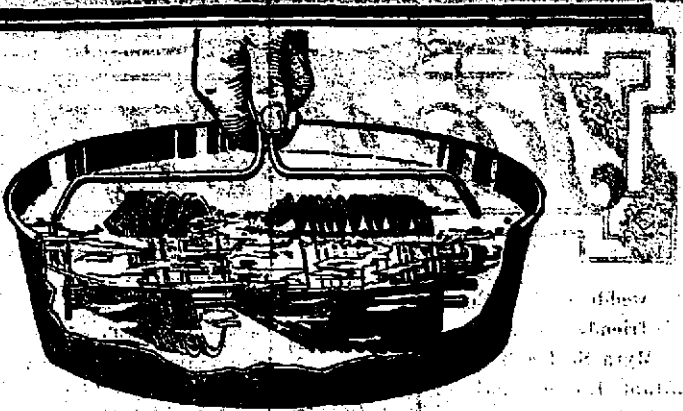

The models are clad in white and their features are whitened so that the pictures look as if carved out of stone. With great care immaculate horses and dogs have been selected to play the respective parts in the different pictures. Lovers of art will especially appreciate this feature of the circus.

Timely Summer Hints For the Home Gardener

Now that radishes, lettuce and in some sections peas, spinach and other crops are being harvested, home gardeners should be making their preparations to utilize the freed space by planting other crops, say specialists of the United States department of agriculture.

In planning for these plantings the specialists suggest it is well at all times, but especially this year, to concentrate efforts on the production of vegetables that have considerable food value and on those which may be stored in their natural condition, dried or canned, for winter use. Late Irish potatoes are one of the important crops that can be grown on the freed ground. Navy beans furnish substantial food, which is easily stored, and the present market prices make it worth while in sections where they thrive to replant with this legume the space from which crops have been harvested.

Other vegetables of much food value from which choice may be made for late plantings include sweet corn, late beets, string beans, turnips, tomatoes, squash and pumpkins. Among the less nutritious vegetables which may be planted in soil freed by early harvests are late cabbage and cucumbers. Winter onions, fall lettuce and fall radishes also may be planted late in the season.

You can't make good cream with a dirty cream separator

CREAMERYMEN AND BUYERS all over the country are demanding better cream, and if you sell cream it is to your advantage to deliver the best possible cream.

IF YOU MAKE BUTTER IT is equally important that your cream be first-class. Good butter can't be made from poor cream.

THE ONE FACTOR THAT most largely determines the quality of cream is the sanitation of the cream separator bowl in which it is separated.

THE EASE WITH WHICH the De Laval can be thoroughly washed and kept in a sanitary condition is one reason why creamerymen prefer cream separated by the De Laval and it is likewise one of the reasons why butter made from De Laval cream has scored highest at the National Dairy Show for over twenty years.

THE CONSTRUCTION OF the De Laval is such that it can be completely taken apart for washing. There are no tubes, crevices, holes or corrugated surfaces such as are found in other machines, and which are very hard to clean.

THE DISCS ARE WASHED AS a single piece, and the whole machine can be thoroughly cleansed in five minutes.

ATTENDANCE AT SCHOOL IS URGED

The Rev. D. Ira Lambert Shows That it is Doubly Important Because of War

SERMON ON SUNDAY MORNING

Points to Assertions of School Authorities Regarding Need of Educated Men

Appropos of the opening of the city schools next week, the Rev. D. Ira Lambert preached regarding the urgent necessity of school attendance being held to the standard regardless of the war, at the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning, taking for his text, Second Peter, 1:15, "Add to your faith knowledge."

"For three years," he said, "the colleges and universities of Europe have been closed and the public school system seriously crippled and in some places obliterated, and sad indeed will be the outlook for our own land if such a condition prevail here. Two hundred thousand boys and girls graduated from the high schools of America last June. Under normal conditions about one hundred thousand of these would enter the higher schools of learning this fall and great will be the loss to them if they be deprived of this great boon in the most critical period of their lives."

"And yet word comes from many quarters of the land that certain prominent institutions of learning will scarcely be able to open and the schools will be crippled in many phases of their work. Not only will this be an amazing loss to the future of this generation but it is a problem of vital importance in the issues of the great world conflict in which we are engaged."

"As a letter issued by the presidents of Indiana colleges and normal schools puts it, this a scientific war and before its end we shall find as other countries have found that we must continue unremittently our research, study and preparation to win it. Experts skilled in physics, chemistry, mathematics, astronomy, engineering, agriculture, pharmacy—indeed in all the branches of science—will be able to contribute to the nation far more than their man power. The demand for able physicians and surgeons will grow unceasingly as the war progresses."

"Commissioner Claxton reminds us that if the war should continue long the country will need very greatly for war purposes alone many more men than it now has. He says: 'There will be men in abundance to fight in the trenches but there will be a dearth of officers, engineers and men of scientific knowledge and skill in all the industries in transportation and in many other places where skill and daring are just as necessary as in the trenches.' Not only does the number of trained leaders need to be increased for the sake of the future of our own nation but also for the

"Through the schools also we in the United States are putting into the national life those ideals and purposes which will certainly shape the course and destiny of the nation and determine its contribution to the world's development and welfare. What are we putting into the nation through the schools and colleges? No question can be of more far-reaching importance. Historically, the dominant ideals of American education has been not to increase the powers of the state but the training of citizens to serve mankind. Our oldest colleges emphasize this ideal. Harvard was built 'for Christ and the church.' Yale was established for a specific purpose—to 'train men for service in the church and the state.'

"As President Wilson has well said: 'The day has come when America is privileged to spend her blood and might for the principles that gave her birth and happiness and peace that she has treasured.' Democracy is a beautiful ideal but the ideal will never be realized until the world has a democracy which is rooted and grounded in the principles of righteousness and love which Jesus made the basis of the coming kingdom of Heaven, and those ideals not only for the present but for the period following the war, must be maintained in the ideals of our schools. To take political power out of the hands of kings and put it in the hands of the people is to establish a democracy; but it will not be a democracy safe for the world unless we first put into the people the spirit of fraternity and service and teach them how to build a truly christian democracy. For the accomplishment of this end the most potent agency is the christian school and college and therefore he who labors to maintain these manifests the highest patriotism and ministers most effectively to the deepest need of the whole seething mass of humanity as it struggles toward the light. It is with the moulders of ideals that the faith of the future rests, that which moulds the true character which trains the mind and develops the body and moulds the spirit of youth into accord with the ideal of Him who is the Master of men because he is the servant of mankind."

The Beautiful.

We ought to acquaint ourselves with the beautiful; we ought to contemplate it with rapture and attempt to raise ourselves up to its height, and in order to gain strength for that we must keep ourselves thoroughly unselfish. We must not make it our own, but rather seek to communicate it—indeed, to make a sacrifice of it to those who are dear and precious to us.—Goethe.

Joy of Life.

Along all our pathways sweet flowers are blossoming if we will only stop to pluck them and smell their fragrance. In every meadow birds are warbling, calling to their mates and soaring into the blue, if we will only stop our grumbling long enough to hear them.

Home Cookery

Veal and Ham Pie.

To make a moderate sized pie take half pound of neck of veal, a quarter of a pound of ham, two hard boiled eggs, a little parsley, mixed herbs and pastry. Remove the meat from the bones and put in a saucepan to stew, then add the meat to cook partly while the crust is made and the eggs are boiled. Take out the meat and fill the pie dish with alternate layers of veal, ham and egg cut into thick slices and sprinkled over with the herbs and seasoning. Then strain the gravy into the dish until it is about half full. Wet the edges, line with a strip of thin pastry, then cover. Make holes in the top, then decorate the pie and bake in a moderate oven for one hour.

Creamed Codfish in Bread Cases.

Cut rather thick slices of bread, remove the crusts and with a cookie cutter stamp out the center of each, leaving a case similar in shape to a party shell. Fry in deep, hot fat to a golden brown; drain on brown paper and fill with the following: Let a piece of salt codfish stand in cold water for several hours or overnight. Heat it gradually in the water, and when the fish begins to shrink drain and mix with a scant cup of cream sauce to which a chopped hard boiled egg has been added. Stir until the fish is heated, season highly with paprika and sprinkle in a little chopped parsley. Use no salt.

Apple Sauce Cake.

Cream one cupful of sugar and one-half cupful of shortening. Dissolve one teaspoonful of soda in a little hot water and stir this in one cupful of sour apple sauce, letting it foam over into the mixing bowl. Add nearly or quite two cupfuls of flour sifted with one teaspoonful of cinnamon, one-half teaspoonful of cloves and a little nutmeg. Mix thoroughly, then add one cupful of raisins. Bake in a loaf tin about forty-five minutes.

Prune Tartlets.

Line small tins with pastry; in each put a tablespoonful of prune pulp, prepared by rubbing cooked prunes with their juice through a sieve and adding two tablespoonfuls of fine breadcrumbs to each cupful of fruit; cover with mixture of two tablespoonfuls of butter and sugar beaten to a cream with two eggs, two-thirds cupful of breadcrumbs, ten drops of almond extract and a teaspoonful of baking powder.

Summer Management Of the Poultry Flock

Mash hoppers that allow grain to be scratched out and wasted are a cause of more loss than is commonly supposed. Under average conditions as much as 10 to 15 per cent may be wasted without its becoming very noticeable.

During the spring, summer and fall hens on range will pick up enough to decrease very materially the amount of grain they will require.

Free range does not mean a yard where hens have run for years or an hour or two for liberty just before evening. Real range means free access to fresh green fields or pasture from daylight until dark. If henhouses must be closed at night for protection open them in the morning as soon as the hens come down from roost. Hens get more out of the first two hours of daylight than all of the afternoon. If it is possible to move poultry houses away from other buildings or the home garden to a place where the hens can have absolute free range on fresh sod this is the year to do it. This is equally if not more important for young stock than for the mature birds.

Sour Cherry Preserve.

Pit the cherries, weigh and put in preserving kettle with an equal weight of sugar. Stand on the back of stove until the sugar is dissolved, then boil slowly until thick. If this is too rich a very nice preserve is made by using seven pounds of sugar to ten pounds of fruit.

MUST PROVE FAITH IN GERMAN PEOPLE

Socialist Leader Says This is Necessary For President to Bring Immediate Peace

WAR AGAINST DEVELOPMENT

Agrees Durable Peace Must be Guaranteed by the People and Not the Government

By JOHN GRANDEN

(Copyright 1917 by U. P.)

Berlin, via London, Sept. 10.—President Wilson can bring immediate peace if he will prove by acts the faith in the German people he has expressed in words, Philip Scheidemann, leader of the German socialist majority party, declared today in an exclusive interview with the United Press.

Scheidemann granted the interview after an exhaustive study of President Wilson's reply to Pope Benedict.

"Further bloodshed is not necessary if America believes in and does not underestimate the reichstag's power and the strength of the German government which pushes so irresistibly towards democratization of the entire public life," Scheidemann declared.

"Democratization of Germany is pushing on, although as in America war offers the worst chance for further development of democratic institutions."

"The German advance will be quick the sooner the obstacles of war are removed."

"The irritative tone of the American note to the pope has been responded to in the same way by the greater part of the German press."

"I find the American government phrases its war aims in such a weak manner that it looks as if the reichstag's peace formula had served as a base."

"The reichstag's demand, with its program of peace under standing and durable conciliation of peoples; declared forceful extension of territory as well as political, commercial and financial oppression incompatible with such a peace and declared a willingness to promote the establishment of international guarantee."

"The idea that peace in order to be durable is not only to be guaranteed by the government but by the people is absolutely right notwithstanding the fact that the suggestion is made in a form offensive to the German government."

LOOK FOR FUND SOURCE

Government Agents Think I. W. W. Money Came From Germany

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 10.—Government agents today were trying to ascertain whether any of the $100,000 fund said to have been distributed in propaganda through the local office of the I. W. W. during the past year came from German sources. The existence of this fund was revealed through records seized in the recent raid on I. W. W. headquarters here, a federal officer said today. The government possesses the name of every person to whom this money was sent and a list of donors.

DAMAGE FROM FROST FEARED

Grain Expert Says it Will Cause a Heavy Loss.

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 10.—Farmers of eastern Iowa, Northern Illinois, Northern Indiana and Ohio face a loss of millions of dollars tonight through frost predicted by the government weather bureau.

This was the statement today by a local grain expert, who said a killing frost at this time would render more than a hundred million bushels of corn unfit for commercial use. The frost bitten corn would have to be used for feed on the farms at once.

Come where the pretty coats are

Here at this store you will find them now in the new Autumn shades, whose variety is almost unbounded.

Whether you pay $15.00 or $75.00 you can buy that coat here.

Anybody can sell you a garment at $15.00, but here you will get a coat that represents $15.00 of value.

Value must be regulated by price. Nobody can give you a coat at this season of year for $15.00 that is worth $30.00.

When you shop in this store, you have the assurance that values are AS QUOTED YOU—truly an important factor and one that merits careful consideration.

Freights are congested so that most of our coats come by express, and that means new arrivals most every day.

Coats priced from $12.50 to $90.00
Suits priced from $18.50 to $60.00

NAROBIA GUARANTEED FURS

Just received our initial shipment (and it's a large one, too) of the greatest furs on the market—great because they are beautiful in their lustrous black lynx and fox effects—great because they travel under a rock-ribbed guarantee of NOT TO RIP, NOT TO FADE, NOT TO SHED—great, because they are the most reasonably priced furs on the market.

PRICES RANGE FROM $6.00 TO $16.50
